John Laband

14 Isizulu Fal Exemplar Paper1:

Rope of Sand John Laband,1995 The Kingdom forged by Shaka was once one of the most powerful and sophisticated black states in Africa It took the British at the height of their imperial power six months and a full military campaign to bring the kingdom down Thereafter Zululand was broken up consigned to bitter civil war and eventually annexed piecemeal its land given over to white farmers in a saga of humiliation and loss This book gives an account of the dramatic emergence and tragic decline of the Zulu kingdom in the 19th century based on research fieldwork It ranges from themes such as Zulu social and political organization through analysis of the vivid personalities and complex political manœuvres of leading Zulu and their colonial opponents to descriptions of military campaigns and battles

The South African War reappraised Donal Lowry,2017-03-01 This text brings together contributions from scholars in South African and imperial history to examine the international dimensions of the war including a historiographical review of a century of writing on the origins of the war

The Dust Rose Like Smoke James O. Gump,2016 In 1876 Lakota and Cheyenne warriors annihilated Custer s Seventh Cavalry at Little Bighorn Three years later and half a world away a British force was wiped out by Zulu warriors at Isandhlwana in South Africa In both cases the total defeat of regular army troops by forces regarded as undisciplined barbarian tribesmen stunned an imperial nation Although the similarities between the two frontier encounters have long been noted James O Gump s book The Dust Rose Like Smoke is the first to scrutinize them in a comparative context This study issues a challenge to American exceptionalism he writes Viewing both episodes as part of a global pattern of intensified conflict in the latter 1800s resulting from Western domination over a vast portion of the globe Gump s comparative study persuasively traces the origins and aftermath of both episodes He examines the complicated ways in which Lakota and Zulu leadership sought to protect indigenous interests while Western leadership calculated their subjugation to imperial authority The second edition includes a new preface from the author revised and expanded chapters and an interview with Leonard Little Finger great great grandson of Ghost Dance leader Big Foot whose story connects Wounded Knee and Nelson Mandela

Power and Resistance in an African Society Les Switzer,1993 Imagine a history of the United States written from the perspective of the African American community Imagine that the story of this community is told not only from the viewpoint of its leaders the middle class elites but also from the viewpoint of sharecroppers industrial workers and others living on the margins of American culture And finally imagine that this is not only about political and economic relations but also about race class gender and religious relations about the lived experiences of one community that both reflect and represent fundamental issues of power and resistance in an entire society This is what Les Switzer has tried to do with his book Power and Resistance in an African Society Scholars who have read it suggest that this is the first attempt to write a history of South Africa from the perspective of one subordinate community in South Africa The result is a transformed history from below The names dates events and issues of conventional textbook history lose their meaning in the process of reconstructing a history that seeks to free the African from the domain of South Africa's ruling culture The book also offers a unique contribution to African studies in sub-Saharan Africa because it explores the material and symbolic manifestations of power and resistance in a pre-colonial colonial and post-colonial setting The Ciskei region in the eastern Cape was selected as the case study This was the historic zone of conflict between European and Bantu speaking African in southern Africa the Cape Xhosa wars in this region lasting a century The contemporary African nationalist movement in South Africa first emerged in a variety of organizational forms in the Ciskei during the 1870s and 1880s The strategy of petitionary protest probably persisted longer here than anywhere else in South Africa in the post-colonial period but popular resistance found a variety of windows outside organized African politics The Ciskei for example was a focal point of rural resistance in the 1920s and early 1930s and again between the early 1940s and early 1960s The gap between rural and urban dissidents in South Africa moreover was first bridged in the Ciskei and its environs during the 1952 Defiance Campaign Finally the Ciskei's segregated African reserve where economic conditions were judged to be most serious emerged as a primary site of struggle on South Africa's periphery during the 1970s and 1980s The focus of this study is on the Xhosa speaking peoples who lived in the Ciskei region in the first century after conquest To highlight the linkages between regional and national issues the Xhosa in the Ciskei are examined in the context of unfolding events in the Cape Colony and in the unified settler state of South Africa after 1910 A distinct plurality of voices would be formed in the complex interplay between color consciousness and class as this community sought space for itself within the domain of South Africa's ruling culture
