Academic Literacy and the Languages of Change Lucia Thesen, Ermien van Pletzen, 2006-05-16 This book is an analysis of student literacy in an academic setting and how this has changed due to political economic and social factors The contributors who are all engaged in academic literacy work at a South African university use the theoretical tradition of New Literacy Studies as developed by theorists such as James Gee Brian Street and Gnnther Kress and apply this to a case study of one university in the changing context of South Africa Academic Literacy and the Languages of Change will be of interest to postgraduates and academics researching sociolinguistics or language and education LWATI, 2007 Perspectives on the African Past Martin A. Klein, G. Wesley Johnson, 1972 The Archaeology of Africa Bassey Andah, Alex Okpoko, Thurstan Shaw, Paul Sinclair, 2014-05-22 Africa has a vibrant past It emerges from this book as the proud possessor of a vast and highly complicated interweaving of peoples and cultures practising an enormous diversity of economic and social strategies in an extraordinary range of environmental situations At long last the archaeology of Africa has revealed enough of Africa's unwritten past to confound preconceptions about this continent and to upset the picture inferred from historic written records Without an understanding of its past complexities it is impossible to grasp Africa's present let alone its future

Cultural Perspectives on Reproductive Health Carla Makhlof Obermeyer, 2001-08-23 This volume brings together studies carried out in a variety of contexts to explore the relevance of the notion of reproductive health and the role of culture in shaping its diverse manifestations The perspective that guides the collection is informed by anthropological and sociological research on the body pluralism and medicalization and by recent debates regarding women's health and the need to reconcile global agendas and local conditions The fourteen chapters provide views of how reproductive health is viewed by women and men in different parts of the world mainly at the level of local communities in India Egypt Mexico Kenya and South Africa but also in centres of power in China and Iran and in modern and post modern settings of the North and Far East The methodological approaches used by authors are varied but all share a concern with the perceptions decisions and rationalizations that surround health and reproduction A central theme is the correspondence between professional and lay models of reproductive health and some chapters explicitly seek to uncover the logic of practices that appear irrational from a biomedical point of view By analysing behaviour from the perspective of the actors themselves they show the relevance of local notions for understanding the factors that constitute risks for reproductive ill health including conditions of material deprivation constraints in seeking care and inappropriate use of therapies and technologies Cultural Perspectives on Reproductive Health illustrates complex processes of negotiation adaptation and manipulation in the formulation of ideas and policies related to reproductive health through analyses of such topics as the state's discourse on population religious constraints on abortion care professional and legal policies on reproductive technologies health professionals response to violence and the dilemmas that emerge from the new diagnostic and genetic techniques It also invites reflection on the societal construction of rights across cultures and on the place of cultural explanations in analyses of reproductive health
