2014 Geography Grade 11 Memo:

Mobility and Migration Choices Martin van der Velde, Ton van Naerssen, 2016-03-03 The crossing of national state borders is one of the most discussed issues of contemporary times and it poses many challenges for individual and collective identities This concerns both short distance mobility as well as long distance migration Choosing to move or not across international borders is a complex decision involving both cognitive and emotional processes This book tests the approach that three crucial thresholds need to be crossed before mobility occurs the individual s mindset about migrating the choice of destination and perception of crossing borders to that location and the specific routes and spatial trajectories available to get there Thus both borders and trajectories can act as thresholds to spatial moves The threshold approach with its focus on processes affecting whether when and where to move aims to understand the decision making process in all its dimensions in the hope that this will lead to a better understanding of the ways migrants conceive perceive and undertake their transnational journeys This book examines the three constitutive parts discerned in the cross border mobility decision making process people borders and trajectories and their interrelationships Illustrated by a global range of case studies it demonstrates that the relation between the three is not fixed but flexible and that decision making contains aspects of belonging instability security and volatility affecting their mobility or immobility

The Meritocracy Trap Daniel Markovits, 2019-09-10 This book flips your world upside down Daniel Markovits argues that meritocracy isn t a virtuous efficient system that rewards the best and brightest Instead it rewards middle class families who can afford huge investments in their children s education Frightening eye opening stuff The Times Books of the Year Even in the midst of runaway economic inequality and dangerous social division it remains an axiom of modern life that meritocracy reigns supreme and promises to open opportunity to all The idea that reward should follow ability and effort is so entrenched in our psyche that even as society divides itself at almost every turn all sides can be heard repeating meritocratic notions Meritocracy cuts to the heart of who we think we are But what if both up and down the social ladder meritocracy is a sham Today meritocracy has become exactly what it was conceived to resist a mechanism for the concentration and dynastic transmission of wealth and privilege across generations Upward mobility has become a fantasy and the embattled middle classes are now more likely to sink into the working poor than to rise into the professional elite At the same time meritocracy now ensnares even those who manage to claw their way to the top requiring rich adults to work with crushing intensity exploiting their expensive educations in order to extract a return All this is not the result of deviations or retreats from meritocracy but rather stems directly from meritocracy s successes This is the radical argument that The Meritocracy Trap prosecutes with rare force comprehensive research and devastating persuasion Daniel Markovits a law professor trained in philosophy and economics is better placed than most to puncture one of the dominant ideas of our age Having spent his life at elite universities he knows from the inside the corrosive system we are trapped within as well as how we can take the first steps towards a world that might afford us both prosperity and dignity On the Cross Road of Polity, Political Elites and Mobilization Barbara Wejnert, Paolo Parigi, 2016-12-21 This volume discusses the various interrelations that exist within and between social and political phenomena America's Moment Rework America, 2015-06-15 It is time for a new conversation Amid the biggest economic transformation in a century the challenge of our time is to make sure that all Americans benefit from the wave of digital revolutions around the world that have permeated and upended modern life Yet today's economic arguments seem stuck We need a new vision of a hopeful future and a new action agenda So many Americans are uncertain about the future How can there be so many paths to opportunity with so few people traveling them As a nation we have to understand what is required to help Americans succeed now and how to prepare our country for what comes next We have been here before A hundred years ago America experienced the greatest economic transformation and technological revolution in its history The transformation of the past twenty years as the world has moved through the information era into the digital age has turned our life and work upside down once again It is a time of tremendous change but also of tremendous possibility Rework America is a group of American leaders who know from experience the challenges we face and the potential solutions In America's Moment they suggest a practical agenda for an exciting future It is illustrated by people who are already showing the way and includes actions Americans can take today in their own communities preparing people to succeed using the reach of the Internet and data to innovate jobs and to reach new markets all over the world using technology to match employers and workers and transitioning to a no collar working world neither blue collar nor white collar Set against the history of how Americans succeeded once before in remaking their country America's Moment is about the future It describes how the same forces of change technology and a networked world can become tools that can open opportunity to everyone Structuring Inequality Tracy L. Steffes, 2024-04-02 How inequality was forged fought over and forgotten through public policy in metropolitan Chicago As in many American metropolitan areas inequality in Chicagoland is visible in its neighborhoods These inequalities are not inevitable however They have been constructed and deepened by public policies around housing schooling taxation and local governance including hidden state government policies In Structuring Inequality historian Tracy L. Steffes shows how metropolitan inequality in Chicagoland was structured contested and naturalized over time even as reformers tried to change it through school desegregation affordable housing and property tax reform While these efforts had modest successes in the city and the suburbs reformers faced significant resistance and counter mobilization from affluent suburbanites real estate developers and other defenders of the status quo who defended inequality and reshaped the policy conversation about it Grounded in comprehensive archival research and policy analysis Structuring Inequality examines the history of Chicagoland's established systems of inequality and provides perspective on the inequality we live with today Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015 (Volume 3) Union Of International Associations, Union of International Associations, 2014-08-20 The Yearbook of International Organizations provides the most extensive coverage of non profit international organizations currently available Detailed profiles of international non governmental and intergovernmental organizations IGO collected and documented by the Union of International Associations can be found here In addition to the history aims and activities of international organizations with their events publications and contact details the volumes of the Yearbook include networks between associations biographies of key people involved and extensive statistical data Volume 3 allows readers to locate organizations by subjects or by fields of activity and specialization and includes an index to Volumes 1 through 3 Resources in Education ,1981-10 Fishery Bulletin ,2014 A Global Idea Mayssoun Sukarieh,2023-08-15 A Global Idea outlines how youth as shown by the Arab Spring uprisings and subsequent state responses became a prominent social and political category during the first two decades of the twenty first century in the Middle East Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork interview data and textual analysis Mayssoun Sukarieh explains that the spread of youth as an important category is linked to the operation of a global youth development complex a diverse transnational network of state private sector civil society and international development aid organizations that worked through key urban areas such as Washington DC Amman and Dubai In its analysis of the arrival extension and embedding of the youth development complex in the Middle East during this period A Global Idea addresses a broader question that is of global and not just regional concern How are certain ideas that are central to the working and reproduction of global capitalism able to travel the world so that they are found virtually everywhere Electoral Shocks Edward Fieldhouse,Jane Green,Geoffrey Evans,Jonathan Mellon,Christopher Prosser,Hermann Schmitt,Cees van der Eijk,2019-12-13 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations Electoral Shocks The Volatile Voter in a Turbulent World offers a novel perspective on British elections focusing on the role of electoral shocks in the context of increasing electoral volatility It demonstrates and explains the long term trend in volatility how shocks have contributed to the level of electoral volatility and also which parties have benefited from the ensuing volatility It follows in the tradition of British Election Study books providing a comprehensive account of specific election outcomes the General Elections of 2015 and 2017 and a more general and novel approach to understanding electoral change The authors examine five electoral shocks that affected the elections of 2015 and 2017 the rise in immigration after 2004 particularly from Eastern Europe the Global Financial Crisis prior to 2010 the coalition government of the Conservatives and the Liberal Democrats between 2010 and 2015 the Scottish Independence Referendum in 2014 and the European Union Referendum in 2016 The focus on electoral shocks offers an overarching explanation for the volatility in British elections alongside the long term trends that have led to this point It offers a way to understand the rise and fall of the UK Independence Party UKIP Labour's disappointing 2015 performance and its later unexpected gains the collapse in support for the Liberal Democrats the dramatic gains of the Scottish National Party SNP in 2015 and the continuing period of tumultuous politics that has followed the EU referendum and the General Election of 2017 It provides a new way of understanding electoral choice in Britain and also beyond and a better understanding of the outcomes of recent elections

Life in the Age of Drone Warfare Lisa Parks, Caren Kaplan, 2017-10-19 This volume's contributors offer a new critical language through which to explore and assess the historical juridical geopolitical and cultural dimensions of drone technology and warfare They show how drones generate particular ways of visualizing the spaces and targets of war while acting as tools to exercise state power Essays include discussions of the legal justifications of extrajudicial killings and how US drone strikes in the Horn of Africa impact life on the ground as well as a personal narrative of a former drone operator The contributors also explore drone warfare in relation to sovereignty governance and social difference provide accounts of the relationships between drone technologies and modes of perception and mediation and theorize drones relation to biopolitics robotics automation and art Interdisciplinary and timely Life in the Age of Drone Warfare extends the critical study of drones while expanding the public discussion of one of our era's most ubiquitous instruments of war Contributors Peter Asaro Brandon Wayne Bryant Katherine Chandler Jordan Crandall Ricardo Dominguez Derek Gregory Inderpal Grewal Lisa Hajjar Caren Kaplan Andrea Miller Anjali Nath Jeremy Packer Lisa Parks Joshua Reeves Thomas Stubblefield Madiha Tahir

State against Civil Society Cameron Ross, 2017-10-02 Over the period December 2011 July 2013 a tidal wave of mass protests swept through the Russian capital and engulfed scores of cities and regions These demonstrations came as a great shock to the Russian political establishment After decades of passive acceptance of the status quo it appeared that civil society was at last awakening The protests came in the wake of the Arab Spring revolts which toppled authoritarian dictators in Tunisia Egypt and Libya However by the end of 2013 the number of mass protests in Russia and their size had declined precipitously President Putin on returning to office in 2012 had quickly regained the upper hand over the protestors This book examines the reasons for the rise and fall of the mass protests in the Russian Federation Internationally renowned experts in the field of Russian politics from Russia and the UK provide important new insights into the nature of the mass opposition movement the non systemic opposition its strengths and its weaknesses A key novel aspect of the study is its focus on the national and regional dimensions of the protest movement and its class and ethnic dimensions This book was published as a special issue of Europe Asia Studies

Muddying the Waters Richa Nagar, 2014-10-30 In Muddying the Waters Richa Nagar embarks on an eloquent and moving exploration of the promises and pitfalls she has encountered during her two decades of transnational feminist work With stories encounters and anecdotes as well as methodological reflections Nagar grapples with the complexity of working through solidarities responsibility and ethics while involved in politically engaged scholarship Experiences that range from the streets of Dar es Salaam to farms and development offices in North India inform discussion of the labor and politics of coauthorship translation and genre blending in research and writing that cross multiple and often difficult borders The author links the implicit assumptions issues and questions involved with scholarship and political action and explores the epistemological risks and possibilities of creative research that bring these into intimate dialogue Daringly self conscious Muddying the Waters reveals a politically engaged researcher and writer working to become radically vulnerable and the ways in which such radical vulnerability can allow a re imagining of collaboration that opens up new avenues to collective dreaming and laboring across sociopolitical geographical linguistic and institutional borders

After the Education Wars Andrea Gabor, 2018-06-12 The education wars have been demoralizing for teachers After the Education Wars helps us to see a better way forward Cathy N Davidson The New York Times Book Review After the Education Wars is an important book that points the way to genuine reform Diane Ravitch author of Reign of Error and The Death and Life of the Great American School System A bestselling business journalist critiques the top down approach of popular education reforms and profiles the unexpected success of schools embracing a nimbler more democratic entrepreneurialism In an entirely fresh take on school reform business journalist and bestselling author Andrea Gabor argues that Bill Gates Eli Broad and other leaders of the prevailing education reform movement have borrowed all the wrong lessons from the business world After the Education Wars explains how the market based measures and carrot and stick incentives informing today's reforms are out of sync with the nurturing culture that good schools foster and contrary to popular belief at odds with the best practices of thriving twenty first century companies as well These rich detailed stories of real reform in action illustrate how enduring change must be deeply collaborative and relentlessly focused on improvement from the grass roots up lessons also learned from both the open source software and quality movements The good news is that solutions born of this philosophy are all around us from Brockton Massachusetts where the state's once failing largest high school now sends most graduates to college to Leander Texas a large district where school improvement spurred by the ideas of quality guru W Edwards Deming has become a way of life A welcome exception to the doom and gloom canon of education reform After the Education Wars makes clear that what's needed is not more grand ideas but practical and informed ways to grow the best ones that are already transforming schools

Race, Space, and Exclusion Robert Adelman, Christopher Mele, 2014-11-20 This collection of original essays takes a new look at race in urban spaces by highlighting the intersection of the physical separation of minority groups and the social processes of their marginalization Race Space and Exclusion provides a dynamic and productive dialogue among scholars of racial exclusion and segregation from different perspectives theoretical and methodological angles and social science disciplines This text is ideal for upper level undergraduate or lower level graduate courses on housing policy urban studies inequalities and planning courses

The Tumultuous Politics of Scale Donald M. Nonini, Ida Susser, 2020-01-23 Contemporary politics this book contends depend upon the turbulent struggles and strategies around scale Conflicts over scale can be seen as opaque class struggles Political projects whether from the ground up or representing corporate or state interests continually contest the scale at which authority is vested This volume looks at the way global corporations redefine the scale of power and how working class and other movements build alliances and cross scales to develop political blocs What injustices are perpetrated or more hopefully redressed in this process The book consisting of contributions from anthropologists geographers and cultural studies scholars explores theoretical issues around contested temporal and spatial scales and around variations in scale from the body to the global Part I focuses on bodies in motion entangled in battles over new boundaries and political coalitions and the ways in which migrants and refugees are disrupted by intersecting time scales Part II on the nation state addresses the shifting responsibilities assigned by law at different historical moments and the impact of global energy trade on national austerity policies Part III on rescaling sovereignty discusses the misleading media discourse on Brexit and reconstructs the class bases of the move to the Right in Eastern Europe that threaten the EU Part IV on the histories of changing scales of movements revisits historical debates on uneven and combined development and sets out the transnational labor movements of the eighteenth and nineteenth century Atlantic which prefigure contemporary struggles of labor in a world which is still one of uneven and combined capitalist development Finally Part V considers ways in which some social movements are constrained by scale while others reshape parties and traverse nations in their efforts to build class alliances and political blocs

Toxic Communities Dorceta Taylor, 2014-06-20 Uncovers the systemic problems that expose poor communities to environmental hazards From St Louis to New Orleans from Baltimore to Oklahoma City there are poor and minority neighborhoods so beset by pollution that just living in them can be hazardous to your health Due to entrenched segregation zoning ordinances that privilege wealthier communities or because businesses have found the paths of least resistance there are many hazardous waste and toxic facilities in these communities leading residents to experience health and wellness problems on top of the race and class discrimination most already experience Taking stock of the recent environmental justice scholarship Toxic Communities examines the connections among residential segregation zoning and exposure to environmental hazards Renowned environmental sociologist Dorceta Taylor focuses on the locations of hazardous facilities in low income and minority communities and shows how they have been dumped on contaminated and exposed Drawing on an array of historical and contemporary case studies from across the country Taylor explores controversies over racially motivated decisions in zoning laws eminent domain government regulation or lack thereof and urban renewal She provides a comprehensive overview of the debate over whether or not there is a link between environmental transgressions and discrimination drawing a clear picture of the state of the environmental justice field today and where it is going In doing so she introduces new concepts and theories for understanding environmental racism that will be essential for environmental justice scholars A fascinating landmark study Toxic Communities greatly contributes to the study of race the environment and space in the contemporary United States

Education for Sustainable Development and Disaster Risk Reduction Rajib Shaw, Yukihiro Oikawa, 2014-08-06 Education for Sustainable Development ESD and Disaster Risk Reduction Education DRRE have overlapping areas of concern focusing on strengthening the link to local communities In reality there is significant synergy in ESD and disaster risk reduction DRR Both concepts urge looking at the communities both focus on behavior changes and both call for linking knowledge to action The Decade of Education for Sustainable Development DESD ends in 2014 and the Hyogo Framework for Action HFA ends in 2015 Therefore at this junction it is important to review the progress made over the past 10 years and to suggest future synergy options This book is the first attempt to review these two emerging fields and to provide input to the future direction of education The book has 11 chapters drawing lessons mainly from Japan and discussing their implications for the world The first four chapters provide an overview of the ESD DRR linkage ESD and its evolution DRRE and Climate Change Education These are followed by case studies from ESD practices in Japan in schools universities and communities The primary target groups for this book are students and researchers in the fields of environment disaster risk reduction and climate change studies The book provides them with a good idea of the current research trends in the field and furnishes basic knowledge about these vital topics Another target group comprises practitioners and policy makers who will be able to apply the knowledge collected here to establishing policy and making decisions

Princetonians, 1784-1790 Ruth L. Woodward, Wesley Frank Craven, 2014-07-14 These volumes the fourth and fifth complete the series of biographical sketches of students at Princeton University the College of New Jersey in colonial times They cover pivotal years for both the nation and the College In 1784 the war with England had just ended Nassau Hall was still in a shambles following its bombardment and the College was in financial distress It gradually regained financial and academic strength and the Class of 1794 graduated in the year of the death of President John Witherspoon one of the most important early American educators The introductory essay by John Murrin editor of the series since 1981 explores the postwar context of the College The two volumes contain biographies of 354 men who attended with the classes of 1784 through 1794 and two other students whose presence at the College in earlier years has only now been demonstrated During these years Princeton accounted for about an eighth of all A B degrees granted in the United States It was the young republic's most national college although it had nearly lost its New England constituency and was instead beginning to draw nearly 40 percent of its students from the South Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Fighting the Great War at Sea Norman Friedman, 2014-10-22 The overriding image of the First World War is the bloody stalemate of the Western Front but although much of the action did occur on land the overall shape of the war _ even the inevitability of British participation _ arose out of its maritime character It was essentially a struggle about access to worldwide resources most clearly seen in the desperate German attempts to deal with the American industrial threat which ultimately levered the United States into the war and thus a consequence of British sea control rn This radical new book concentrates on the way in which each side tried to use or deny the sea to the other and in so doing it describes rapid wartime changes not only in ship and weapon technology but also in the way naval warfare was envisaged and fought Combat produced many surprises some like the impact of the mine and torpedo are familiar but this book also brings to light many previously unexplored subjects like creative new tactical practices and improved command and control rn The contrast between expectation and reality had enormous consequences not only for the course of the war but also for the way navies developed afterwards This book melds strategic technical and tactical aspects to reveal the First World War from a fresh perspective but also demonstrates how its perceived lessons dominated the way navies prepared for the Second
