Essay Question Number 3

The "American Century" is the name of the Twentieth Century (1900-1999). It is called the "American Century" because it is the century that made America the way it is today. This Century shaped the U.S. into a materialistic and consumerism society and is marked as an era of beginnings and endings. From Industrialism to Culture and everything in between this Century changed the whole way the U.S. works and is.

When Industrialism advanced and more inventions were being made, the U.S. became powered by the Economy and we became known as the "Economy of the World". Also, our culture was really created during this century. Music and Movies and Entertainment was created and discovered, as well as sports.

Because of the advance technology, this century became known as the bloodiest century, especially during WWII and the Cold War. When WWII started tanks and planes and guns had really improved allowing the U.S. to have a better advantage than others. We saw many deadly wars take place in this century; Vietnam War, WWI, WWII. Many major events took place in this century that changed so much of America; the Great Depression, the Baby Boom, the Progressive Movement, and the Civil Rights Movement. After the Baby Boom the U.S. truly did become "Affluenza".

Without the "American Century" today would be a completely different world. The way we function and live would not be anything like it is. I guess you could say that changes and

Achieving Next Generation Literacy Maureen Connolly, Vicky Giouroukakis, 2016-04-29 As a teacher what you want most is for your students to learn to immerse themselves in rich and challenging content and leave your classroom better prepared for school and life In English language arts and humanities this includes developing the multifaceted reading writing thinking and communication skills that constitute next generation literacy including the ability to Read complex text independently Develop strong content knowledge through reading writing listening and speaking Tailor communication in response to different audiences tasks purposes and disciplines Comprehend text as well as critique it Value evidence in arguments they read hear or develop Use technology strategically and capably Understand perspectives and cultures that differ from their own But as a teacher you also know how much is riding on THOSE TESTS achievement tests from the national assessment consortia the SAT and ACT and independent state assessments Is it possible to help students succeed on mandated tests without sacrificing your values your creativity and their education Yes it is possible This book shows you how This not a test prep book It is not about drill and kill practices that narrow learning so that students will pass an exam Instead authors Maureen Connolly and Vicky Giouroukakis present a lesson planning approach for the secondary classroom that generates test success as a byproduct of comprehensive literacy learning After a comparative analysis of how current ELA assessments measure literacy they model a backward design based process for using these test items as a tool to create engaging and effective instruction With 6 sample lessons 42 instructional techniques and tips for differentiation this practical resource will empower you to help the students you love become capable literate individuals who are also well prepared to ace high stakes tests

Higher Education, Meritocracy and Inequality in China Ye Liu, 2016-10-08 This book investigates the changing opportunities in higher education for different social groups during China's transition from the socialist regime to a market economy The first part of the book provides a historical and comparative analysis of the development of the idea of meritocracy since its early origins in China and in more recent western thought The second part then explores higher education reforms in China the part played by supposedly meritocratic forms of selection and the implications of these for social mobility Based on original empirical data Ye Liu sheds light on the socio economic gender and geographical inequalities behind the meritocratic facade of the Gaokao Liu argues that the Chinese philosophical belief in education based meritocracy had a modern makeover in the Gaokao and that this ideology induces working class and rural students to believe in upward social mobility through higher education When the Gaokao broke the promise of status improvement for rural students they turned to the Chinese Communist Party and sought political connections by actively applying for its membership This book reveals a bleak picture of visible and invisible inequality in terms of access to and participation in higher education in contemporary China Written in an accessible style it offers a valuable resource for researchers and non specialist readers alike
