Ginter,2022-11-24 Breast cancer remains the leading cause of cancer in women which makes accurate diagnoses on core needle biopsy CNB specimens of vital importance in staging and guiding therapy decisions for patients The first edition of this multi authored text written by leaders in the field from major academic medical centers provided a comprehensive guide on diagnostic breast pathology in the core biopsy setting In addition to in depth coverage of benign and malignant entities encountered in breast core biopsies the book provided additional resources to improve diagnostic accuracy such as pattern based approaches to evaluation mimickers of breast lesions arising in extra mammary sites and pitfalls specific to small tissue samples In recent years there have been several notable developments in the field of breast pathology including revisions in AJCC breast cancer staging updated guidelines in the testing and reporting of ER PR and HER2 as well as implementation of immunotherapy and companion biomarker testing In addition several key updates were included in the most recent edition of the WHO Classification of Breast Tumours 2020 In addition to updates specific to individual breast entities the second edition will detail updates regarding biomarker testing in the primary and metastatic setting and incorporate newly defined entities and updated definitions of rare tumors in alignment with the WHO Classification of Breast Tumours 2020 Furthermore this edition will address the role of CNB in companion biomarker testing for eligibility for immunotherapy in the context of advanced triple negative breast carcinoma Written by leaders in the field and edited by expert breast pathologists The Second Edition of Comprehensive Guide to Core Needle Biopsies of the Breast is the definitive reference on breast core needle biopsies for practicing pathologists pathology trainees oncologists and clinicians of patients with breast disease Handbook of Research on Redesigning Teaching, Learning, and Assessment in the Digital Era

Meletiadiou, Eleni,2023-05-15 Recent evolutions such as pervasive networking and other enabling technologies have been increasingly changing human life knowledge acquisition and the way works are performed and students learn In this societal change educational institutions must maintain their leading role They have therefore embraced digitally enhanced learning to provide increased flexibility and access for their students The Handbook of Research on Redesigning Teaching Learning and Assessment in the Digital Era provides insights into the transformation of education in the digital era and responds to the needs of learners of any context and background through relevant studies that include sound pedagogical and content knowledge Covering key topics such as hybrid learning media remote learning and social media this major reference work is ideal for administrators policymakers academicians researchers scholars practitioners librarians instructors and students

Computer-aided Design and Diagnosis Methods for Biomedical Applications Varun Bajaj,G R Sinha,2021-04-27 Computer aided design CAD plays a key role in improving biomedical systems for various applications It also helps in the detection identification predication analysis and classification of diseases in the management of chronic conditions and in the delivery of health services This book discusses the uses of CAD to solve real world problems and challenges in biomedical systems with the help of appropriate case studies and research simulation results Aiming to overcome the gap between CAD and biomedical science it describes behaviors concepts fundamentals principles case studies and future directions for research including the automatic identification of related disorders using CAD Features Proposes CAD for the study of biomedical signals to understand physiology and to improve healthcare systems ability to diagnose and identify health disorders Presents concepts of CAD for biomedical modalities in different disorders Discusses design and simulation examples issues and challenges Illustrates bio potential signals and their appropriate use in studying different disorders Includes case studies practical examples and research directions Computer Aided Design and Diagnosis Methods for Biometrical Applications is aimed at researchers graduate students in biomedical engineering image processing biomedical technology medical imaging and health informatics

Oxford Textbook of Palliative Nursing Betty R. Ferrell,Nessa Coyle,Judith A. Paice,2015 The Oxford Textbook of Palliative Nursing is the definitive text on nursing care of the seriously ill and dying It is a comprehensive work addressing all aspects of palliative care including physical psychological social and spiritual needs The text is written by leaders in the field and includes an impressive section on international palliative care Each chapter includes case examples and a strong evidence base to support the highest quality of care The book is rich with tables and figures offering practical resources for clinical practice across all settings of care and encompassing all ages from pediatrics to geriatrics

Resolution Pharmacology - Innovative Therapeutic Approaches Based on the Biology of Resolution to Control Chronic Diseases of Western Societies Mauro Perretti,Trinidad Montero-Melendez,Lucy V. Norling,2019-11-04 In this eBook we have grouped together 16 original contributions which have addressed the translational potential for therapeutics developed on the conceptual framework of the resolution of inflammation The take home message of our effort and the efforts of our colleagues who wrote these pieces is that completely different drugs can be designed and modelled on the mediators and targets of resolution By implementing this 180 shift in the way we plan the drug development programme that is by focusing on agonists and or promoting the actions of pro resolution agonists we can offer a fresh approach to the clinical management of chronic diseases that affect the modern society With this series of articles we foresee the birth of Resolution Pharmacology The 16 contributions presented herein confirm the broad relevance of pro resolving physio pharmacology with the description of pro resolving mechanisms in distinct diseases from atherosclerosis and heart infarct to cystic fibrosis and diabetes This testifies on one hand the fundamental role that inflammatory mechanisms play in virtually all pathological settings and on the other hand the great potential that a novel approach to anti inflammatory therapy by exploiting resolution mediators and targets may have Thus while there is broad recognition that evidence based interventions have transformed cardiovascular inflammation and endocrine care new therapies are still needed for growing numbers of patients with unmet needs As an example an estimated 17 million people world wide die annually of cardiovascular diseases particularly heart attacks and strokes Cardiovascular diseases occur almost equally in men and women and are the leading cause of death and morbidity worldwide. It is estimated that only 1 in 1000 compounds entering preclinical testing are then trialled in man and the actual cost of developing a new therapeutic into clinical practice has grown exponentially over the past two decades, estimated at 1.2B. Over the last 20 years or more, scientists have appreciated the biology of the resolution of inflammation, which provides a new paradigm in our understanding of the inflammatory process with the appreciation of genetic, molecular and cellular mechanisms that are engaged to actively resolve inflammation. The resolution of acute inflammation is enabled by counter-regulatory checkpoints to terminate the host reaction while at the same time promoting healing and repair. The potential of lipid mediators to enact pro-resolving effects in the context of cystic fibrosis is presented by Recchiuti et al, while Fredman reasons on the potential for these molecules in atherosclerosis. This resonates well with the contributions from Bäck and colleagues who have focused on pro-resolving receptors to offer vascular protection in intimal hyperplasia and more generally in cardiovascular disease. On the same vein is the scholarly contribution of Leoni and Soehnlein who focus on heart disease with Qin et al presenting the latest findings on the effect of an Annexin A1 derived peptide in myocardial infarction. Hansen et al and de Gaetano et al bring in the complexity of diabetes and associated morbidity with a focus on specialised pro-resolving lipid mediators but also introducing the potential of dietary approaches. As the western diet favours disease, an omega-3 rich diet can lead to higher availability of lipid mediators to afford tissue protection if not reverting its pathological status. Docosahexaenoic acid and its bioactive derivatives are endowed with potent anti-nociceptive properties following bone fracture as shown by Zhang et al. The broad relevance of the pharmacological approach reaches the skin with Resolvin D1 protecting against UV irradiation (Saito et al). Reduced skin inflammation is also achieved with an Annexin A1 peptide that impacts on the outcome of heterologous transplantation (Lacerda et al). Indeed, modulating the phenotype of immune cells can provide long-lasting beneficial outcomes as attained with CDK inhibitors (Cartwright et al) and PI3K inhibitors in experimental gout (Galvao et al). Such an effect is also achieved with a third group of pro-resolving therapeutics, the melanocortin receptor agonists, with important modulation of macrophage reactivity (Patrino et al) with Spana et al providing new pharmacology following selective activation of the MC1 receptor. Finally, Hopkin et al discuss the potential for targeting immune cell trafficking as a way to control immune-mediated diseases, bringing in not only pro-resolving mediator agonists but also approaches to reduce chemo-cytokine gradients or modulating S1P and 11β-hydroxysteroid dehydrogenase. Finally, we wish to highlight that this wealth of science has also brought to the forefront specific pro-resolving receptors including FPR2, ALX, GPR32, ChemR23 and MC1, all G-protein coupled receptors that are therefore amenable to pharmacological exploitation for drug discovery programmes. We see that not only agonists to the receptors can be developed, some of them modelled on the natural ligands, e.g. resolvins, lipoxins, Annexin A1 derived peptides or melanocortin peptides, but also that the creativity of this pharmacology can be attained through biased ligands and positive allosteric modulators. Deep knowledge of pro-resolving receptor biology and their cell-specific signalling can accelerate the generation of novel anti inflammatory depicted on the resolution of inflammation In conclusion with this eBook we propose time is ready to exploit the concepts of resolution and use its targets and mediators for the identification of better drugs to establish Resolution Pharmacology We predict Resolution Pharmacology will represent an important innovation in the way common diseases will be treated in the next decades of this millennium Structural, Metabolic
