The 4IR and the Humanities in South Africa Bhaso Ndzendze ,Asheel Singh ,Suzall Timm ,2024-05-28 The world is at a crossroads because of industrial change compounded by a global pandemic Humanities and social science education is grappling with the meaning of this change to the effect that there have been some anxieties and misguided perceptions about the irrelevance of the humanities in this emerging new world With the emergence of new technologies this book highlights the indispensable centrality of humanity and the humanities going forward The book will provide a reference point for new and innovative approaches to the humanities in the 4IR in South Africa and Africa Its diverse content means that it will be useful across the humanities and social science spectrum Lifestyle, Biological Risk Factors for Non-Communicable Diseases in the Midst of Social Inequalities and COVID-19 Kotsedi Monyeki,Andre Pascal Kengne,Benedicta Ngwenchi Nkeh-Chungag,Han C. G. Kemper,2023-07-31 Telemedicine in Low-Resource Settings Richard Wootton,2015-04-24 Telemedicine networks to support healthcare workers in resource limited settings often for humanitarian purposes have evolved over the last decade or so in a largely autonomous way Communication between them has been informal and relatively limited in scope This situation could be improved by developing a comprehensive approach to the collection and dissemination of information A recent review identified seven telemedicine networks each of which had been in operation for at least five years and which provided store and forward telemedicine services to doctors in low and middle income countries These networks provide clinically useful services and improved healthcare access However like much of telemedicine the formal evidence for their cost effectiveness remains weak Topics of current research interest therefore include the cost effectiveness of telemedicine in resource limited settings Outcomes data and methods for gathering it such as patient quality of life following a telemedicine episode the knowledge gain of healthcare staff involved in telemedicine and staff recruitment and retention in rural areas are also of interest Finally there is little published information about the performance of these telemedicine networks and methods for measuring it about how best to manage them and about how to share resources between them A collection of articles reporting the current evidence supporting the use of telemedicine in resource limited settings would build the evidence base and should provide a focus for future research It would also serve to raise the profile of this potentially important research field Contemporary strategies: Advancing healthcare for HIV, STIs, and beyond Samanta Tresha Lalla-Edward,Anil Chuturgoon,Vinodh Aroon Edward,2023-08-31
