Should You Die? Augusto T. S. Cruz, Living healthily for centuries is no longer a sci fi prospect It is very likely that the first person to live to 200 years in good health is already alive scientific and technological advances of today are starting to produce medicines and treatments which tackle aging directly The true debate is no longer about whether we can extend our lives and fight death it is about whether we should If advances in medicine and engineering protect you and others from aging diseases injuries and accidents allowing you to live as a healthy 25 year old for as long as you wanted where death could only visit you if and when you wished should you say yes to this future And what happens if enough people say yes Will overpopulation be inevitable Will we lose our identity as humans by relinquishing mortality Will humanity be challenging the natural and divine order Will we grow lazy and complacent Will the divide between the rich and poor grow Or is overcoming aging and disease a mandate of medicine and a moral imperative to aim for Perhaps even our destiny as humans In the same way push back on hunger pestilence and violence should we end the cycle of suffering and death which aging brings to us all In Should You Die Augusto T S Cruz weighs in on these questions The author methodically picks apart arguments supporting each side of the debate highlighting their strengths and weaknesses making the book an excellent primer for those interested in the discussion and a helpful guide for those already involved Marine Greens Sesan Abiodun Aransiola,Oluwafemi Adebayo Oyewole,Naga Raju Maddela,Udeme Joshua Josiah Ijah,Bangeppagari Manjunatha,2024-03-27 This book provides an in depth overview of marine greens and their environmental and biotechnological applications It addresses concepts such as the niche adaptation strategies of marine greens in their natural habitats as well as their global distribution and factors affecting their distribution and proliferation Marine greens are posited as an alternative to fossil fuels mitigating global climate change and thereby fostering future environmental sustainability In addition the book explains the remediation of xenobiotics wastewater microplastics marine debris and marine green contamination Expert authors from around the world explore the industrial and agricultural applications of marine greens in the production of enzymes and marine bioenergy and what is needed to improve its production potential This is important reading for government and non governmental organizations as well as industries and research institutions looking for ways to combat current industrial and environmental challenges Heavy Helene A. Phenomena, Unwieldy Things Jutta Schickore, William R. Newman, 2024-02-26 This open access book provides a historical treatment of scientific control in experimentation in the longue dur e The introduction distinguishes four related strands in the history of experimental control the development of practices to stabilize experimental conditions the career of the comparative design the unfolding of methodological discussions about control practices and designs and the history of the term control Each chapter brings these distinctions to bear on specific historical episodes The focus is on experiments with complex elusive phenomena such as perception and learning irregular movements and unobservable elements Such experiments bring control issues to the fore because they are difficult to design and stabilize and often controversial Together the chapters show that the local context shapes what exactly is controlled how control can be accomplished and how controls are justified They also show that control strategies and methodological ideas often remain stable for a long time and change only gradually This book as well as the volume on analysis and synthesis in experimentation by the same editors contains contributions by an array of experts from multiple disciplines making it suitable for historians and philosophers of science and students alike Dealing with Mission Drift in Parachurch Agencies Israel K.
