Simple we constantly strive to present information in ways that are easy to understand as well as remember The effect of land inheritance on youth employment and migration decisions: Evidence from rural Ethiopia Kosec, Katrina, Ghebru, Hosaena, Holtemeyer, Brian, Mueller, Valerie, Schmidt, Emily, 2017-03-28 In Ethiopia there are two binding forces push and pull that deserve attention when it comes to youth occupational and spatial mobility choices and the national land use and transfer policy On the one hand the fact that the land rental market in Ethiopia is supply constrained due to market and policy distortions marginalizes youth and serves as a push factor leading them to look elsewhere for a livelihood strategy On the other hand the regulatory conditions and restrictions attached to land use and inheritance rights may serve as a pull factor and force youth to be tied to the rural and or farming sector Our study thus aims to explore how youth land access both inheritance and market based affects their migration and employment decisions We explore this question in the context of rural Ethiopia using panel data from 2010 and 2014 We find that larger expected land inheritances significantly lower the likelihood of long distance permanent migration and of permanent migration to urban areas during this time Inheriting more land is also associated with a significantly higher likelihood of employment in agriculture and a lower likelihood of employment in the nonagricultural sector Conversely the decision to attend school is unaffected These results appear to be most heavily driven by males and by the older half of our youth sample We also find several mediating factors matter Land inheritance plays a much more pronounced role in predicting rural to urban permanent migration and nonagricultural sector employment in areas with less vibrant land markets and in relatively remote areas those far from major urban centers Overall the results reaffirm the notion that push factors dominate pull factors in dictating occupational and migration decisions in Ethiopia and highlight youth preferences to use migration or non agricultural employment as a last resort after exhausting other means of accessing land such as temporary land rental Handbook of Contemporary Education Economics Geraint Johnes, Jill Johnes, Tommaso Agasisti, Laura López-Torres, 2017-12-29 This Handbook provides a comprehensive overview of the modern economics of education literature bringing together a series of original contributions by globally renowned experts in their fields Covering a wide variety of topics each chapter assesses the most recent research with an emphasis on skills evaluation and data analytics Oswaal CDS (Combined Defence Services) 14 Solved Papers Year-wise 2018-2024 (II) | English | For 2025 Exam Oswaal Editorial Board, 2024-09-26 Union Public Service Commission UPSC every year conducts a CDS exam twice a year for candidates who wish to make their career in the defence forces Army Navy and Air Force The Combined Defence Services Examination is conducted for admission to the Indian Military Academy IMA Indian Naval Academy INA Air Force Academy AFA and Officers Training Academy OTA The CDS selection process comprises two stages written exams and SSB interviews The final selection of candidates is done based on the performance in both stages After completing training at IMA INA AFA and OTA candidates are selected for the post of Lieutenant In 2024 Approx 4.5 Lacs students applied for the CDS examination the opportunity you get from the Indian Armed

Health Economics from Theory to Practice Simon Eckermann,2017-03-20 This book provides a robust set of health economic principles and methods to inform societal decisions in relation to research reimbursement and regulation pricing and monitoring of performance in practice We provide a theoretical and practical framework that navigates to avoid common biases and suboptimal outcomes observed in recent and current practice of health economic analysis as opposed to claiming to be comprehensive in covering all methods. Our aim is to facilitate efficient health system decision making processes in research reimbursement and regulation which promote constrained optimisation of community outcomes from a societal perspective given resource constraints available technology and processes of technology assessment. Importantly this includes identifying an efficient process to maximize the potential that arises from research and pricing in relation to existing technology under uncertainty given current evidence and associated opportunity costs of investment. Principles and methods are identified and illustrated across health promotion prevention and palliative care settings as well as treatment settings. Health policy implications are also highlighted. The Early Years Inter-American Development Bank, Norbert Schady, 2015-10-22. This book is open access under a CC BY NC ND 3.0 IGO license. The Early Years analyzes the development of Latin American and Caribbean children and makes a compelling case for government intervention in what is instinctively a family affair. Spending on effective programs for young children is an investment that if done well will have very high returns while failure to implement such programs will lower the returns on the hefty investments being made in primary secondary and higher education. Policies for young children belong at the core of a country's development agenda alongside policies to develop infrastructure and strengthen institutions. However if the services provided or funded by governments are to benefit children they must be substantially better than what is currently being delivered in the region. This book offers suggestions for improving public policy in this critical area.
