The Algebra Conspiracy Michael Wiener, 2000-09 The Algebra Conspiracy is an irreverent radical politically incorrect passionate challenge to the increasingly popular program of the educational establishment which requires every student to take two to four years of college preparatory mathematics to earn a high school diploma These well meaning but misguided people are placing every secondary school student into Algebra Geometry and Trigonometry classes that they may not want that they may not need to fulfill requirements for future employment or that they may not be academically equipped to handle This means for instance that a youngster who has trouble adding common fractions computing with percents or even making change on a ten dollar purchase will nevertheless be required to pass Algebra and Geometry In many school districts this is already creating an academic nightmare as more and more math teachers are faced with the Hobson's choice of either failing many of their students who simply cannot handle Algebra and Geometry or handing out numerous gift D's or severely watering down the college prep mathematics curriculum so more students can pass the classes The author takes the controversial view that the Age of Technology notwithstanding a large percentage of today's secondary school youngsters could if allowed live their entire adult working lives very comfortably without ever being forced to set foot in Algebra and Geometry classrooms There are many other classes that these youngsters should be taking such as cultural or practical arts electives instead of wasting their time in college prep math classes

Reforming American Education from the Bottom to the Top Evans Clinchy, 1999 What kind of school would you run if you didn't have to worry about getting students into college Here some of the nation's most respected and controversial theorists policy makers and practitioners offer their vision of how to prepare children for the incalculable future foreseen by editor Evans Clinchy Their specific methods are diverse and provocative But the basis for their arguments is the same So long as our colleges and universities maintain their constrictive authoritarian and antidemocratic admissions policies and educational practices elementary and secondary schools will necessarily be straightjacketed Only through a thorough and collaborative reform from kindergarten through graduate school can meaningful change take place The ramifications of such radical reform would be enormous yet enticing Deborah Meier suggests that progressive kindergartens not the scholarly disciplines of higher academe should be the model for reinvigorating American education Susan Ohanian and Joe Nathan explore what elementary classrooms might be like if this happened Nel Noddings weighs the pros and cons of a college bound high school curriculum Higher education specialists like William Coplin and Patrick Shannon speculate on how colleges and universities would change to serve the graduates of reformed elementary and secondary schools Nona Lyons considers how teacher training would be transformed And sociologist Alejandro Sanz de Santamaria looks at the impact of education reform on political life These discussions touch every issue in American education today from standardized testing to decentralization to inquiry learning and beyond
