Meeting the Challenges to Measurement in an Era of Accountability Henry Braun, 2016-01-29 Under pressure and support from the federal government states have increasingly turned to indicators based on student test scores to evaluate teachers and schools as well as students themselves The focus thus far has been on test scores in those subject areas where there is a sequence of consecutive tests such as in mathematics or English language arts with a focus on grades 4-8 Teachers in these subject areas however constitute less than thirty percent of the teacher workforce in a district Comparatively little has been written about the measurement of achievement in the other grades and subjects This volume seeks to remedy this imbalance by focusing on the assessment of student achievement in a broad range of grade levels and subject areas with particular attention to their use in the evaluation of teachers and schools in all It addresses traditional end of course tests as well as alternative measures such as portfolios exhibitions and student learning objectives In each case issues related to design and development psychometric considerations and validity challenges are covered from both a generic and a content specific perspective The NCME Applications of Educational Measurement and Assessment series includes edited volumes designed to inform research based applications of educational measurement and assessment Edited by leading experts these books are comprehensive and practical resources on the latest developments in the field The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Journal of the Senate Minnesota. Legislature. Senate, 2008 Journal for the extra session 1933-34 was issued with House Journal for that session spine title Journals Senate and House The Next Generation of Testing Hong Jiao, Robert W. Lissitz, 2015-11-01 The Race To The Top RTTP federal education policy fostered a new generation of state tests This policy advocated adopting common core standards which set a higher level of learning targets for students in the US K-12 education These standards are intended to assess higher order thinking skills and prepare students ready for college and career In the meantime they are aligned with those for international assessments which keep US students abreast of their international peers Furthermore the new generation of state tests requires the use of technology enhanced items to align student assessments with student learning environment Computer technology is indispensable to accomplish this goal Computer based tests related to common core standards are different from previous state computer based tests in two important aspects one is that the current version requires accurate assessment of students along all ability levels and the other is that it promotes the use of an efficient test delivery system essentially the use of computerized adaptive assessment in K-12 state testing programs In addition to providing summative information about student learning the new common core tests add formative assessment component in the whole assessment system to provide timely feedback to students and teachers during the process of student learning and teacher instruction As with its predecessor the new assessment policy also holds teachers and schools accountable for student learning With the requirements by the new federal education policy states formed two consortia Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers PARCC and Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium SBAC to develop assessments in alignment with the new common core standards This book is based on the presentations made at the Thirteenth Annual Maryland Assessment Research Center's Conference on The Next Generation of Testing Common Core Standards Smarter Balanced PARCC and the Nationwide Testing Movement Experts from the consortia and nationwide overviewed the intention history and the current status of this nationwide testing movement Item development test design and transition from old state tests to the new consortia tests are discussed Test scoring and reporting are specially highlighted in the book The challenges related to standard setting for the new test especially in the CAT environment and linking performance standards from state tests with consortium tests were explored The issues of utilizing the consortium test results to evaluate students college and career readiness is another topic addressed in the book The last chapters address the critical issue of validity in the new generation of state testing programs Overall this book presents the latest status of the development of the two consortium assessment systems It addresses the most challenging issues related to the next generation of state testing programs including development of innovative items assessing higher order thinking skills scoring of such items standard setting and linkage with the old state specific standards and validity issues This edited book provides a very good source of information related to the consortium tests based on the common core standards
