Thinking Rationally in an Irrational World Alex Burdeshaw, 2017-02-28 Have you ever been involved in a contentious fruitless discussion about politics, science or current events with a coworker, friend or family member? Thinking Rationally in an Irrational World by author Alex Burdeshaw explores why those conversations get so contentious and he offers easily applicable ways to make such talks less tense and more fruitful for everyone involved. Burdeshaw discusses the major factors that exacerbate a person's lack of rational critical thinking skills. He offers a variety of culprits including the flawed education system, poor dietary and exercise habits, the hyperpolarization and groupthink mentalities of the media, and the collective lack of well-trained interpersonal skills. In Thinking Rationally in an Irrational World, Burdeshaw proposes possible solutions to combat each of these identified areas.

The Routledge International Handbook of Creative Learning Julian Sefton-Green, Pat Thomson, Ken Jones, Liora Bresler, 2011-07-15 The concept of creative learning extends far beyond Arts-based learning or the development of individual creativity. It covers a range of processes and initiatives throughout the world that share common values, systems and practices aimed at making learning more creative. This applies at individual classroom or whole school level, always with the aim of fully realising young people's potential. Until now, there has been no single text bringing together the significant literature that explores the dimensions of creative learning, despite the work of artists in schools and the development of a cadre of creative teaching and learning specialists. Containing a mixture of newly commissioned chapters, reprints and updated versions of previous publications, this book brings together major theorists and current research. Comprising of key readings in creative education, it will stand as a uniquely authoritative text that will appeal to those involved in initial and continuing teacher education as well as research, academics and policy specialists. Sections include a general introduction to the field of creative learning; arts learning traditions with sub-sections on discrete art forms such as drama and visual art; accounts of practice from artist-teacher partnerships; whole-school change and reforms; curriculum change; assessment; evaluative case studies of impact and effect; global studies of policy change around creative learning.
