Creating America Jan Cohn, 2010-11-23 Before movies radio and television challenged the hegemony of the printed word the Saturday Evening Post was the preeminent vehicle of mass culture in the United States And to the extent that a mass medium can be the expression of a single individual this magazine with a peak circulation of almost three million copies a week was the expression of its editor George Horace Lorimer Cohn shows how Lorimer made the Post into a uniquely powerful magazine that both celebrated and helped form the values of the time History of the United States of America, from the First Settlement of the Country John Howard Hinton, 1875 Creating America , 2006-08-16 Changed Men Erin Lee Mock, 2024-06-28 Postwar culture and anxiety over the reintegration of veterans into American society Millions of GIs returned from overseas in 1945 A generation of men who had left their families and had learned to kill and to quickly dispatch sexual urges were rapidly reintegrated into civilian life told to put the war behind them with cheer and confidence Many veterans struggled openly or privately with this transition Others in society wondered what the war had wrought in them As Erin Lee Mock shows in this insightful book the explosive potential of men became a central concern of postwar American culture This wariness of veterans settled into a generalized anxiety over men s inherent violence and hypersexuality which increasingly came to define masculinity Changed Men engages with studies of film media literature and gender and sexuality to advance a new perspective on the artistic and cultural output of and about the Greatest Generation arguing that depictions of men s violent and erotic potential emerged differently in different forms and genres but nonetheless permeated American culture in these years Viewing this homecoming through the lenses of war and trauma classical Hollywood pulp fiction periodical culture and early television Mock shows this history in a provocative new light
