Razor V. Hyundai Motor America ,2004 The Changing Role of the Korean State Hong Yung Lee,Sunil Kim,2016-10-20 How and why has the Korean state changed its way of handling the society and its markets over the past two decades The Changing Role of the Korean State finds that the explosion of contentious civil society after democratization coeval with the outbreak of the financial crisis following rapid economic growth are closely associated with the decline of developmentalism Despite these profound changes however the Korean state has not totally relinquished its control over the society and the market Rather although its methods have been altered it remains to be highly interventionalist and regulatory in nature The state continues to use its influence to restructure the socio economic system and rationally manage spatial arrangements The book amply demonstrates the residual legacy of the developmental state in Korea and it is unlikely that Korea will ever accept the western liberalist concept of a state which limits its function to that of a referee for the spontaneous operation of the civil society and the market The contributors of this edited volume delineate the shifting role of the Korean state from the developmental state which led economic development by guiding investment in strategic industries through various means to a slightly subtler role as a regulator supervising the operation of the market in the changing economic environment Individual chapters presented here address this changing but nonetheless vital role that the state

plays in managing the variety of modern socio economic life in South Korea Hong Yung Lee is Professor Emeritus of Political Science at University of California Berkeley Sunil Kim is Assistant Professor of International Studies at Kyung Hee University

Made in Korea Richard M. Steers, 2013-08-21 American business folklore is awash with the adventures of successful entrepreneurs Still most of these stories are about Americans neglecting important and courageous entrepreneurs from other countries Made in Korea recounts the story of how Chung Ju Yung rose from poverty to build one of the world's largest and most successful building empires Hyundai through a combination of creative thinking tenacity timing political skills and a business strategy that few competitors ever understood Chung entered the shipbuilding business with no experience and went on to create the world's largest shipyard He began making automobiles when foreign experts unanimously predicted he would fail and he started a global construction company that has built some of today's greatest architectural wonders He even convinced the International Olympic Committee to select South Korea over Japan as the site for the highly successful 1988 Olympics Unlike most CEO's of major firms Chung has always preferred the company of his workers to that of the global executive elite Hard work creativity and a capacity to never give up this is the essence of Chung's life In each of his ventures he exhibited a sheer determination to succeed regardless of the obstacles and he worked tirelessly to instil this drive in all of his employees Even today in the midst of Korea's worst economic crisis in over four decades Chung's company is busy implementing plans to emerge as an even stronger contender in the world economy Illustrated with 32 pages of colour photographs not previously seen in the West including photos of Chung's recent historic visit to North Korea in 1998 Made in Korea takes stock of Chung's entire life highlighting both his contributions to society and the lessons his work can teach to aspiring entrepreneurs
