School District Income Tax Instructions

General Information for Ohio Form SD 100

Do I Have To File a School District Income Tax Return?

Yes, if ...

- you were either a resident of, or domiciled in, a school district with an income tax in effect during 2012; AND
- you had no school district income tax withheld.

No, if ...

- you were a resident of, or were domiciled in, a school district with an income tax in effect for 2012 and either (a) had any income for a traditional tax base school district or (b) had earned income for an earned income only tax base school district from "Tax Type" discussion below; Taxpayers residing in additional unearned income only tax base school districts must file Ohio form SD 100 even if none of their income is subject to the tax; OR
- you received a W-2 with excess school district withholding tax taken out of your pay for 2012. If you are not liable for school district income tax, but had school district tax withheld in error, you must complete an Ohio form SD 100 for that school district number in order to request a refund. If you are liable for tax in one school district, but you had withholding tax taken for another school district, you must file separate Ohio SD 100 returns under each school district number (see listings on pages SD 7-9).

Tax Type

Traditional Tax Base School District Method – Ohio Revised Code sections 5746.01(E)(1)(a) and 5746.01(E)(b) provide that the voters in each school district can vote to enact a school district income tax based upon income and deductions shown on the Ohio income tax return. Under these provisions of the law, individuals pay the school district income tax based upon Ohio taxable income (Ohio adjusted gross income less the exemption amount) as shown on line 6 of Ohio form IT 1040 or IT 1041, and voters pay the school district income tax based upon Ohio taxable income as shown on line 3 of Ohio form IT 1041. Until recently, the method of taxation was the only method available to school district voters. Taxpayers residing in traditional tax base school districts must file Ohio form SD 100 even if none of their income is subject to the tax.

Earned Income Only Tax Base School District Method – Ohio Revised Code section 5746.01(E)(1)(b) provides that voters in a school district can approve a school district income tax that will apply only to individuals – not to estates – and will apply only to each individual's earned income, net of any deductions. This method of taxation is an alternative to the traditional tax base school district method. For a listing of earned income only tax base school districts, see page SD 7.

"Earned income" is defined as wages, salaries, tips, other employee compensation, and self-employment income from sole proprietorships and partnerships.

Under this alternative tax base, each taxpayer in the earned income only tax base school district must pay school district income tax on any other types of income such as retirement income, unemployment compensation, worker's compensation, lottery winnings, interest, dividends, capital gains, profit from rental activities, distributive shares of profit from S corporations, alimony received, distributions from trusts and estates, and all other types of income that are not earned income but that are part of Ohio adjusted gross income.

Taxpayers in earned income only tax base school districts cannot claim any deductions, such as the alimony paid deduction or the capital loss deduction. In addition to those situations, taxpayers in the earned income only tax base school districts are not allowed a deduction for personal or dependency exemptions. Taxpayers residing in earned income only tax base school districts must file Ohio form SD 100 even if none of their income is subject to the tax.

I Don't File an Ohio Income Tax Return. Must I File an Ohio Form SD 100?

Yes, if you have a school district tax liability. To determine this liability, you should start with what your Ohio taxable income would be if you were filing an Ohio income tax return. Then, if you show an amount on line 6 of Ohio form SD 100, you must file the school district income tax return.

I'm Retired. Am I Liable for School District Tax?

Yes, if you show any amount of tax on Ohio form SD 100, line 6. Note that taxpayers who are 65 or older before Jan. 1, 2013 may claim on line 6 a fixed income credit of $50 per month.
