

DNA Structure and Replication

How is genetic information stored and copied?

Why?

Deoxyribonucleic acid or DNA is the molecule of heredity. It contains the genetic blueprint for life. For organisms to grow and repair damaged cells, each cell must be capable of accurately copying itself. So how does the structure of DNA allow it to copy itself so accurately?

Model 1 – The Structure of DNA

1. Refer to the diagram in Model 1.

a. What are the three parts of a nucleotide?

Deoxyribose sugar, Phosphate, Nitrogen-containing base.

b. What kind of sugar is found in a nucleotide?

Deoxyribose

c. Which nucleotide component contains nitrogen?

bases (A,T,G,C)

d. Name the four nitrogen bases shown in Model 1.

Adenine, Thymine, Guanine, Cytosine

2. DNA is often drawn in a "ladder model." Locate this drawing in Model 1.

a. Circle a single nucleotide on each side of the ladder model of DNA.

Proceedings of the First Workshop on Biological Physics 2000 Virulh Sa-yakanit, L. Matsson, Hans Frauenfelder, 2001 Like inanimate matter biological matter is condensed though it may be more complex However a living cell is a chemically open system with biological functions that are often a nonstationary nonlinear type of collective phenomena driven by chemical reactants e g ATP GTP ligands and receptors The living cell and many of its subsystems are hence lyotropic systems depending on various reactant concentrations rather than the temperature Nonlocal and local correlations of the interacting molecules become the prerequisites for signal transduction This book constitutes the proceedings of the workshop entitled Biological Physics 2000 CUET PG Bio Informatics - Question Bank (2400 MCQs Chapterwise) Mocktime

Publication, 2400 MCQs CUET PG Question Bank Bio Informatics CUEG PG Previous Papers CUET PG Syllabus CUET PG Exam Pattern Checkpoint Controls and Targets in Cancer Therapy Zahid H. Siddik, 2010-03-12 Much work over the last two decades has firmly established that loss of cell cycle checkpoint regulation and resultant unabated cellular proliferation is an inherent characteristic of cancer This loss may occur through aberration in any single component involved in signal transduction pathways that orchestrate checkpoint regulation which may manifest through either a failure to activate the checkpoint or a failure to respond to the activated checkpoint In normal cells checkpoint pathways are activated when genetic or cellular homeostasis is compromised and signals are then transduced to re stabilize homeostasis and failing this to activate the apoptotic machinery to induce a cellular suicidal response This implies that both survival and cell death pathways are induced following checkpoint activation and that the final decision is dependant on the net result of integrating the two sets of signals It is intriguing that checkpoint pathways are also critical in cancer therapy to provide an apoptotic stimulus when cellular damage induced by the therapeutic agent is detected by the sensor system Therefore it is not surprising that failure in pro survival checkpoint response will render tumor cells hypersensitive to cytotoxics and conversely failure in pro apoptotic checkpoint response will induce genetic instability and or therapeutic resistance Understanding the intricacies of checkpoint response is therefore central to the design of therapeutic regimen that will enhance antitumor

effects Although early versions of this design entail combination of cytotoxic agents with cell cycle or checkpoint inhibitors a greater understanding of the concepts could make such combinations clinically more effective The contributions in this book will consolidate the current state of knowledge on checkpoint responses that may lay the foundation for hypothesis driven rational approaches in advancing the management of cancer The immediate attraction of the book to the scientific community is that it represents a timely opportunity to build upon existing concepts of checkpoints to expand our understanding of the inner workings of the critical checkpoint machinery The present understanding has provided ample appreciation that response to checkpoint activation is manifested through coordinated inhibition of cyclin dependent kinase CDK complexes in G1 S and or the G2 phase in order to arrest the cell cycle Kinase inhibition can occur through several mechanisms including inhibitory phosphorylation of CDK destruction of the cognate cyclins and recruitment of CDK inhibitors from the INK and WAF1 CIP1 families However the wealth of information from recent discoveries needs to be examined critically to consolidate our conceptual knowledge of checkpoints At the same time there is acute awareness in the diversity of checkpoint response between cytotoxic agents and this serves as a reminder of the magnitude of complexity that is inherent in checkpoint regulation This volume is intended to bring the cancer research community closer toward an improved understanding of this regulation how checkpoint abnormalities can impact negatively on cancer therapy and emerging strategies to target checkpoint response as a therapeutic end point
