PURPOSE IN LIFE IN RELATION TO SUBJECTIVE WELL-BEING AND WORK-ORIENTATION OF PRIMARY SCHOOL TEACHERS B. VISWANATHA SARMA, Understanding Motivation and Emotion Johnmarshall

Reeve, 2024-10-08 Comprehensive reference on the nature of motivation and emotion thoroughly updated with the latest research and findings in the field Understanding Motivation and Emotion seeks to answer perennial questions such as What do people want and How do I motivate self and others through evidence based recommendations that enable readers to solve practical concerns This newly updated and revised Eighth Edition addresses applied issues speaking more to daily motivational problems and situations such as how to promote high quality motivation in self and others and emphasizes high interest motivational constructs that have been most actively researched in the last three years including grit mental toughness resilience wellbeing boredom self concept identity and GLP 1 hormones for weight loss With shorter chapters and one fewer chapter than the previous edition the goal of this edition is to provide a less overwhelming but also more inviting interesting engaging and satisfying understanding of motivation and emotion As with previous editions resources for instructors include an Instructor's Manual and Test Bank featuring discussion questions activities central principles PowerPoint slides and other tools Written by an acclaimed professor and researcher in the field Understanding Motivation and Emotion discusses topics including Biological and psychological needs extrinsic motivation and internalization goal setting and goal striving mindsets personal control beliefs and the Self and its strivings Six perennial questions on the nature of emotion various aspects of emotion and the importance of individual emotions and feelings Growth motivation and positive psychology unconscious motivation interventions and implicit motives and attitudes The challenge threat mindset how to control and regulate emotions and the pros and cons of using money as a motivating factor Understanding Motivation and Emotion is an essential reference for all professionals and students seeking to understand the nebulous concepts of motivation and emotion and apply their findings in schools the workplace clinical settings healthcare sports and their own lives HRM and Employability Jasmijn van Harten, Nele De Cuyper, David Guest, Mel Fugate, Eva Knies, Anneleen Forrier, 2022-12-26 Employability is attracting growing attention from researchers and practitioners alike given the contemporary employment landscape one characterized by technological changes ageing populations and competitive organizational environments This interest is in part motivated by the realisation that employability implies a win win situation as employable workers have stocks of knowledge skills and abilities and they are flexible and open to change However the role of the employer and specifically their investments in Human Resource Management policies and practices are largely absent in the current employability discourse Employability is usually regarded as an individual asset in which employees carry almost all responsibility for employability maintenance and development Remarkably little has been done to remedy the neglect of the employer perspective and advance knowledge and practice This book brings together contributions from an international team of renowned management scholars who explore how Human Resource Management investments affect workers employability Drawing on empirical evidence from all over the world this book informs researchers practitioners and students in the fields of business and management especially those with a particular interest in HRM and organizational behaviour The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of The International Journal of Human Resource Management

Dangerous Tides Ulrike Gehring, Simon Karstens, Christian Rollinger, 2025-08-18 The dangers and risks lurking in the deep waters of the world be they profane and natural storms currents shoals cliffs pirates or divine and supernatural the wrath of one or more gods magic sea monsters are as individual and diverse as the stories of their consequences and as numerous as the intentions behind these retellings and reconfigurations In their telling specific dangers become accepted risks that those who undertake the venture of a sea voyage choose or not to expose themselves to Maritime actors make their assessments of the balance between risk and benefit according to historical and contemporary cultural criteria which are contingent on the discursive horizon of their time as reflected in iconographic and textual sources Building on sociological and historical understandings of risk as conscious exposure to specific dangers the case studies in this volume engage with conceptions and discourses of maritime risks in written and visual media from antiquity to the early modern world with contributions ranging from early Greek epic to British Atlantic merchants in the 1700s This broad perspective enables a multifaceted study of representations of maritime dangers in words images and numbers and to discuss contemporary discourses on causes consequences and methods for avoidance of maritime risk Post-Colonial Trajectories in the Caribbean Rosemarijn Hoefte, Matthew L. Bishop, Peter Clegg, 2016-11-18 This book compares and contrasts the contemporary development experience of neighbouring geographically similar countries with an analogous history of exploitation but by three different European colonisers Studying the so called Three Guianas Guyana Suriname and French Guiana offers a unique opportunity to look for similarities and differences in their contemporary patterns of development particularly as they grapple with new and complex shifts in the regional hemispheric and global context Shaped decisively by their respective historical experiences Guyana in tandem with the laissez faire approach of Britain toward its Caribbean colonies was decolonised relatively early in 1966 and has maintained a significant degree of distance from London The hold of The Hague over Suriname however endured well after independence in 1975 French Guiana by contrast was decolonised much sooner than both of its neighbours in 1946 but this was through full integration thus cementing its place within the political economy and administrative structures of France itself Traditionally isolated from the Caribbean the wider Latin American continent and from each other today a range of similar issues such as migration resource extraction infrastructure development and energy security are coming to bear on their societies and provoking deep and complex changes
