Power, Politics, Law Radhika Withana, 2008 This book hypothesises that an ILI perspective offers a better explanation of the law State behaviour relationship during international crises than rival explanations grounded in positivism realism or functionalism Four case studies of State behaviour of the US the Soviet Union and the PRC during the Korean War 1950 1953 of the US and UK during the Suez crisis 1956 of the US and the Soviet Union during the Cuban Missile Crisis 1962 and of the US and an alliance of Latin American States during the Dominican Republic crisis 1965 are used to test the hypothesis The findings confirm the greater explanatory efficacy of ILI and demonstrate that the significance of international law to foreign policy decision making during international crises is more than that of deterring the use of force as is assumed by rival theoretical approaches grounded in a rule book image of international law Back cover
