Indigenization of Language in the African Francophone Novel Peter W. Vakunta, 2011 Indigenization of Language in the African Francophone Novel A New Literary Canon discusses the question of indigenization in the African Francophone novel Analyzing the prose narratives of Nazi Boni Ahmadou Kourouma and Patrice Nganang this book contends that African literature written in European languages is primarily a creative translation process Recourse to European languages as a medium of expressing African imagination worldview and cultures in fictional writing poses problems of intelligibility Developed to express and reflect Western worldviews and sensibilities European languages are employed by African writers to convey messages that seem to be at variance with European imagination These writers find themselves writing in languages they wish to subvert through the technique of literary indigenization The significance of this study resides in its raising awareness to the hurdles that literary creativity in a polyglossic context may present to readers and translators This book provides answers to intriguing questions centering on the problematic of translation in contemporary African literature It is a contribution to current research aimed at unraveling the conundrum surrounding the language question in African Europhone fiction particularly the cultural functions of translation in literature Potential translation problems have to be addressed in order to make African literature written in European languages intelligible to global readership With the advent of globalization transcultural communication has become an activity of enormous importance to the international community It is a subject of great interest to translators linguists language instructors and literary theorists

United States Code: Title 1, General provisions to Title 9, Arbitration United States,1993 Statutory Instruments Other Than Those of a Local, Personal, Or Temporary Character for the Year ... Great Britain,1948 Accessing Asylum in Europe Violeta Moreno-Lax,2017-09-21 Europe is currently experiencing a refugee crisis demonstrated by millions of displaced people unseen since World War II This book examines the interface between the EU s response to irregular flows in particular the main extraterritorial border and migration controls taken by the Member States and the rights asylum seekers acquire from EU law Remote control techniques such as the imposition of visas fines on carriers transporting unsatisfactorily documented third country nationals and interception at sea are investigated in detail in a bid to assess the impact these measures have on access to asylum in the EU The book also thoroughly analyses the rights recognised by the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights to persons in need of international protection inclusive of the principle of non refoulement the right to leave any country including one s own the right to asylum and the right to remedies and effective judicial protection The fundamental focus of the book is the relationship between the aforementioned border and migration controls and the rights of asylum seekers and most importantly how these rights should limit the scope of such measures and the ways in which they are implemented The ultimate goal is to conclude whether the current series of extraterritorial mechanisms of pre entry vetting is compatible in EU law with the EU rights of forced migrants The Statutory Rules and Orders Revised Great Britain,1951 Contemporary Chinese Novels in Translation since 1978 Yun Wu,2024-10-14 This book aims to complement the traditional focus of translation studies which has primarily centered on translating English into other languages It presents a comprehensive analysis of the reverse translation trajectory exploring the movement of Chinese literature into the core English literary domain The book aims to explore the ideological and sociological dynamics that underlie the translation of contemporary Chinese novels This is achieved through an examination of the translation selection process translation paratexts and the roles of translation agents Case studies are employed to illustrate specific linguistic literary and cultural challenges within translation It dissects the cultural and literary implications of translating genres such as women s writing science fiction and Internet literature The argument presented is that the translation of peripheral literature is indispensable in shaping global literature Beyond its literary implications the book identifies the political significance inherent in such reverse translation endeavors It suggests that the translation of Chinese literature holds notable political interest for the Chinese government which aims to reshape China s image and bolster the nation s soft power through literary translation This work will be an essential read to students and scholars of translation studies comparative literature and Chinese studies
