Megacities and the Coast Mark Pelling,Sophie Blackburn,2014-01-03 Based on a major international study this volume provides a synthesis of scientific knowledge on megacity urbanization on the coast environmental impacts risks and management choices including a focus on adaptation mitigation and disaster risk management It is the primary output of a major international scientific project sponsored by the International Geosphere Biosphere Programme the Land Ocean Interactions at the Coastal Zone programme of IHDP IGBP and others It brings together the work of over 60 contributing authors and an international review board It presents the international policy and academic community with an unbiased and high quality assessment of the state of the art in areas of social ecological systems interaction One of its main messages is that while we know a great deal about megacities of more than ten million people and about urban processes and about coasts and their physical and ecological processes aquatic physical and atmospheric there is relatively little work that focusses primarily at points of intersection between large scale urbanization and the coast The book responds to this gap by providing the first global synthesis of megacity and large urban region urbanization on the coast Its focus is on environmental and development challenges climate change and disaster It is interdisciplinary and brings together world recognised scientists including many IPCC lead authors on urban climate and atmosphere disaster risk management demography and coastal environments Billboard ,1997-09-13 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world s premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends Climate Changed Mara Freilich,Irmak Turan,Jessica Varner,Lizzie Yarina,2025-07-15 Models change our worlds From global carbon flux models to regional coastal flood prediction maps climate related models influence how we know our environment how we build our cities and how we act on a climate altered planet Yet such models typically require specialized knowledge to navigate and because the climate crisis is inherently multidimensional technical expertise in isolation is not enough Climate Changed examines models and their imperfect yet central role in understanding the relationship between global climate dynamics and the human built environment It compares and synthesizes the methods and function of models in disciplines ranging from architecture and planning to climate science and natural hazards research This book considers how disparate models are woven together to understand the climate crisis underscoring the necessity of combining locally situated and transdisciplinary knowledge with climate science to navigate current and future cataclysmic changes It highlights the challenges and consequences of disciplinary boundaries siloed scientific knowledge and uneven data and develops ways to overcome these limitations As the world faces the effects of climate change climate scientists are debating the future of their field architects engineers and planners are designing in the context of climate change and society at large is grappling with how to take action This book brings those communities together to chart a path forward
