And Sons A Novel:

Fathers and Sons Theodore Edward Hook, 1842 Mothers and Sons Colm Tóibín, 2007 A collection of short stories that explores the complex relationships between mothers and their sons The Rise and Fall of the Victorian Three-Volume Novel Troy J. Bassett, 2020-02-07 Utilizing recent developments in book history and digital humanities this book offers a cultural economic and literary history of the Victorian three volume novel the prestige format for the British novel during much of the nineteenth century With the publication of Walter Scott's popular novels in the 1820s the three volume novel became the standard format for new fiction aimed at middle class audiences through the support of circulating libraries Following a quantitative analysis examining who wrote and published these novels the book investigates the success of publisher Richard Bentley in producing three volume novels the experiences of the W H Smith circulating library in distributing them the difficulties of authors such as Robert Louis Stevenson and George Moore in writing them and the resistance of new publishers such as Arrowsmith and Unwin to publishing them Rather than faltering the three volume novel stubbornly endured until its abandonment in the 1890s The English Catalogue of Books: v. [1]. 1835-1863 Sampson Low, James Douglas Stewart, 1864 Space and Narrative in the Nineteenth-Century British Historical Novel Tom Bragg, 2016-03-31 Demonstrating that nineteenth century historical novelists played their rational trustworthy narrators against shifting and untrustworthy depictions of space and place Tom Bragg argues that the result was a flexible form of fiction that could be modified to reflect both the different historical visions of the authors and the changing aesthetic tastes of the reader Bragg focuses on Scott William Harrison Ainsworth and Edward Bulwer Lytton identifying links between spatial representation and the historical novel's multi-generic rendering of history and narrative Even though their understanding of history and historical process could not be more different all writers employed space and place to mirror narrative stimulate discussion interrogate historical inquiry or otherwise comment beyond the rational factual narrator's point of view Bragg also traces how landscape depictions in all three authors' works inculcated heroic masculine values to show how a dominating theme of the genre endures even through widely differing versions of the form In taking historical novels beyond the localized questions of political and regional context Bragg reveals the genre's relevance to general discussions about the novel and its development Nineteenth century readers of the novel understood historical fiction to be epic and serious moral and healthful patriotic but also universal Space and Narrative in the Nineteenth Century British Historical Novel takes this readership at its word and acknowledges the complexity and diversity of the form by examining one of its few continuous features a flexibly metaphorical valuation of space and place The English catalogue of books, 1864 A New Catalogue of Barry and Son's General Circulating-library, No. 21, High-Street, Bristol Barry and Son's General Circulating-Library, 1830 Alexander: A Seventh Son Novel (McClains Book 1) Kirsten Osbourne, 2021-12-08 Madelina is the youngest daughter of a Norman conqueror and a woman of power Her own power is insignificant enough in her eyes that
