Transforming Preschool Storytime Betsy Diamant-Cohen, Melanie A. Hetrick, 2013-06-18 According to recent research the best way to make new connections in a child's brain is by building on something already known. A child who loves a book will listen to it repeatedly maintaining interest. Using a selected book in a number of consecutive preschool storytimes but presenting it differently each time can help children learn new skill sets. This book presents a new approach to storytime one that employs repetition with variety to create an experience which helps children connect and engage with the story on a higher level. Diamant-Cohen recently awarded the 2013 ASCLA Leadership and Professional Achievement Award and Hetrick offers a year's worth of activities specifically designed to address multiple intelligences through a repetition-based process. Incorporating recent theories on developmental learning this book includes Scripts for 8 different books with enough activities to repeat each one for six weeks along with lists of optional alternative books. Planning aids such as outlines of storytime sessions, a fill-in-the-blanks planning sheet, questions for evaluation and tips for enhanced storytimes using props and crafts. Detailed but straightforward explanations of theory and research that will help readers communicate effectively with parents, caregivers and other stakeholders. From setup to execution here's everything you need to create and implement a successful elevated storytime.

A Universal Template for Research Position and Life Experience Papers Dale Benjamin Drakeford, 2005 The self-descriptive title A Universal Template For Research Position and Life Experience Papers implies that there is a position that writers take in even the simplest of essays. As such Template provides an opportunity to accomplish two tasks at once: consider the definitive differences between Research Position and Experience papers and explore the issues that impound and empower contemporary urban education. Dale Benjamin Drakeford provides an interactive workshop to guide student writing on any social science subject. Agreeing with many scholars that public and free pedagogy is indispensable the author also argues that there is no wrong or right in scholastic debate only correct presentation of objective thoughts or non-objective attitudes. This the author says is what is sometimes forgotten in the heat of getting ideas on paper. Hence Template provides structure for planning papers and in-process cues for staying on task to complete them with proper formality.

I Can Read It All by Myself Paul V. Allen, 2021-05-28 In the late 1950s Ted Geisel took on the challenge of creating a book using only 250 unique first-grade words something that aspiring readers would have both the ability and the desire to read. The result was an unlikely children's classic The Cat in the Hat. But Geisel didn't stop there. Using The Cat in the Hat as a template he teamed with Helen Geisel and Phyllis Cerf to create Beginner Books a whole new category of readers that combined research-based literacy practices with the logical insanity of Dr. Seuss. The books were an enormous success giving the world such authors and illustrators as P.D. Eastman, Roy McKie and Stan and Jan Berenstain and beloved bestsellers such as Are You My Mother? Go Dog Go Put Me in the Zoo and Green Eggs and Ham. The story of Beginner Books and Ted Geisel's role as president, policymaker and editor of the line for thirty years has been told briefly in various

Narrative as Writing and Literacy Pedagogy for Preservice Elementary Teachers

Nancy A. Wasser,2021-08-16 I just cannot write or I am not a good writer are familiar complaints from students in academia Many of them claim they cannot express themselves clearly in written text and their lack of this skill impedes them in their academic career In this book Nancy A Wasser argues that teachers can help solve this when they start viewing writing not as secondary to reading but as the equally important side of the same coin Those who cannot read will not be able to write Wasser explains how teaching and regular practicing of writing skills from an early age onwards helps children grow into students who are self aware of their voices By employing narrative as a process of learning to write and a way to read teachers can teach children the art of writing while also making children more aware of their own constructions of narrative Combining the focus on individual and group expression in writing lessons students can trace and reflect on their own life transformations through their writing process Good writers are not born that way but made through effort and practice Changes in curriculum may not only lead to better expressed citizens but also to more balance between teacher and children voices
