teacher preparation programs explores the hopes and struggles of the mostly white female students in those programs and opens a window upon the closed world of teacher educators themselves who must straddle multiple worlds and multiple masters With one foot in ancient allegory and the other in contemporary popular culture this text addresses the complex ecologies of gender identity and negotiation between student teachers teacher educators and policy makers against the politicized backdrop of pop culture feminization and the unique contours of homogenization in the emerging elementary teaching force

Surfacing the Politics of Desire Rajeshwari S. Vallury, 2008-08-09 A particular model of masculine desire has traditionally been evoked in an effort to understand the subordinate role of women in male authored fiction Because of this the belief that male authored texts are unfailingly built upon the denial of feminine difference has come to dominate many aspects of literary studies Surfacing the Politics of Desire re examines the myths of masculine desire in order to challenge this premise placing literature at the centre of recent feminist debates over the ontology and politics of sexual difference Citing examples of textual resistance to analytical feminist thought Rajeshwari S Vallury argues that literature is expressive of desires that are not always configured in terms of oppression or the denial of difference In other words a particular politics of reading obscures the multiplicity of desire that literature is capable of affirming and risks sacrificing the possibilities of both literature and desire Through a re evaluation of the sexual politics practiced by nineteenth century male writers such as Balzac Gautier and Maupassant Vallury moves towards a reconfiguration of the relationship between aesthetics and politics Surfacing the Politics of Desire calls into question dominant feminist approaches to the literary representation of gender Enlisting the philosophy of Deleuze and Guattari Vallury calls for a different method of reading one based on a deeper understanding of the politics of literature
