National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Office of University Affairs,1968 Fynbos Nicky Allsopp,Jonathan F. Colville,G. Anthony Verboom,2014 South Africa s fynbos region has intrigued biologists for centuries It has achieved iconic status as a locus of megadiversity and therefore a place to study the ecological underpinnings of massive evolutionary radiations Researchers have made great advances over the past two decades in unravelling the complexities of fynbos ecology and evolution and the region has contributed significant insights into the adaptive radiations of large lineages conservation science pollination biology invasive plant biology and palaeoanthropology Lessons from the fynbos offer much of value for understanding the origin maintenance and conservation of diversity anywhere in the world This book provides the first synthesis of the field for 20 years bringing together the latest ecological and evolutionary research on the South African global biodiversity hotspots of the Greater Cape Floristic Region the iconic fynbos and succulent karoo It explores the historical and modern physical and biological environment of this region the circumstances and processes which have fostered its remarkable biodiversity and the role this diversity has played in the emergence of modern humans It also discusses the challenges of contemporary management and conservation of the region s biodiversity in the face of accelerating global change Terrane Processes at the Margins of Gondwana Alan

Vaughan, Alan P. M. Vaughan, Philip T. Leat, Robert J. Pankhurst, 2005 The Australide orogen the southern hemisphere Neoproterozoic to Mesozoic terrane accretionary orogen that forms the palaeo Pacific margin of Gondwana is one of the largest and longest lived orogens on Earth This book brings together a series of reviews and multidisciplinary research papers that comprehensively cover the Australides from the Tasman orogen of eastern Australia to the Neoproterozoic and Palaeozoic orogens of South America taking in New Zealand and Antarctica along the way It deals with the evolution of the southern Gondwana margin as it grew during a series of terrane accretion episodes from the late Proterozoic through to final fragmentation in mid Cretaceous times Global perspectives are given by comparison with the Palaeozoic northern Gondwana margin and documentation of world wide terrane accretion episodes in the Late Triassic Early Jurassic and mid Cretaceous The Tasmanides of eastern Australia and the terrane histories of New Zealand and southern South America are given comprehensive up to date reviews Lifespan Development and the Brain Paul B. Baltes, Patricia A.

Reuter-Lorenz, Frank Rösler, 2006-06-19 The book focuses on the developmental analysis of the brain culture environment dynamic and argues that this dynamic is interactive and reciprocal Brain and culture co determine each other As a whole this book refutes any unidirectional conception of the brain culture dynamic Each is influenced by and modifies the other To capture the ubiquitous reach and significance of the mutually dependent brain culture system the metaphor of biocultural co constructivism is invoked Distinguished researchers from cognitive neuroscience cognitive psychology and developmental psychology review the evidence in their respective fields A special focus of the book is its coverage of the entire human lifespan from infancy to old age Journal of the American Medical Association American Medical Association, 1912 Includes proceedings of the Association papers read at the annual sessions and list of current medical literature Physics and Chemistry of the Earth's Interior Alok Krishna Gupta, 2011-10-06 The Indian National Science Academy was established in January 1935 with the objective of promoting science in India and harnessing scientific knowledge for the cause of humanity and national welfare In 1968 it was designated as the adhering organisation in India to the International Council for Scientific Union ICSU on behalf of the Government of India Over the years the Academy has published a number of journals volumes biographical memoirs etc The year 2009 2010 will be specially celebrated to mark the Platinum Jubilee of the Academy Many programmes are planned in different centres in India on this occasion In addition the Academy has decided to publish a number of special volumes on different subjects ranging from earth sciences to life sciences This volume is on Physics and Chemistry of the Earth's Interior One of the main objectives of geophysicists is to establish the internal structure of the earth as revealed by seismic tomography It is also their primary goal to correlate geophysical data to reveal thermal and chemical state of the crust mantle and core of the earth In order to interpret seismic velocities and associated density and elastic properties in terms of mineralogical and petrological models of the earth's interior thermodynamic and high pressure temperature data from mineral physics are essential With the advent of different types of multi anvil and laser heated diamond anvil equipment it is now possible to simulate conditions prevalent even in the lower mantle and core of the earth

Radionuclide and Metal Sorption on Cement and Concrete Michael Ochs, Dirk Mallants, Lian Wang, 2015-10-17

Cementitious materials are being widely used as solidification stabilisation and barrier materials for a variety of chemical and radioactive wastes primarily due to their favourable retention properties for metals radionuclides and other contaminants. The retention properties result from various mineral phases in hydrated cement that possess a high density and diversity of reactive sites for the fixation of contaminants through a variety of sorption and incorporation reactions. This book presents a state of the art review and critical evaluation of the type and magnitude of the various sorption and incorporation processes in hydrated cement systems for twenty five elements relevant for a broad range of radioactive and industrial wastes. Effects of cement evolution or ageing on sorption incorporation processes are explicitly evaluated and quantified. While the immobilisation of contaminants by mixing in during hydration is not explicitly addressed the underlying chemical processes are similar. A quantitative database on the solid liquid distribution behaviour of radionuclides and other elements in hydrated cement systems is established on the basis of a consistent review and re evaluation of literature data. In addition to recommended values all underlying original experimental data and key experimental information are provided which allows users to trace the given recommendations or to develop their own set of key values. This database is closely tied to the safety analysis of near surface disposal of radioactive waste in Belgium. It focuses on radioelements, toxic stable elements and heavy metals which makes it relevant for investigations involving the interaction of radioactive and conventional contaminants with cement based barriers.

The book delves into 2003 Johnson 99 Hp. 2003 Johnson 99 Hp is a crucial topic that needs to be grasped by everyone, from students and scholars to the general public.
