Pot Luck Spokesman The information void in the hours following the shooting of US President Ronald Reagan late Monday afternoon March 30 1981 spawned many false rumors and misinformation which White House political adviser Lyn Nofziger understood threatened the credibility of the White House He therefore took the podium before the 200 plus assembled press in Ross Hall to tell them that he would be bringing with him a credible physician to brief them once the president was out of surgery However he didn't have many options to draw from for that credible physician At the hospital the surgeons tending the three shooting victims had first hand information about the afternoon's events but each surgeon knew only about his own injured patient White House physician Dan Ruge meanwhile had been at the president's side throughout the afternoon and was a possible candidate but his White House association made his credibility suspect according to White House aides The job became the drafting of the most logical person to be spokesman That would have been the seasoned physician CEO of the George Washington University Medical Center Ron Kaufman but he was out of town Next up was Dennis O Leary the physician dean for clinical affairs as the preferred spokesman To the White House O Leary was a total unknown but a review of his credentials would hardly have been reassuring He had originally been recruited to George Washington University as a blood specialist Reticent by nature he had minimal public relations and public speaking experience save two years as a member of his hometown high school debate team He had no surgical or trauma training or experience But beggars can't be choosers as the saying goes Kindly stated O Leary was probably the least bad choice to serve as White House hospital spokesman to inform the world of the status of the wounded President Reagan special agent Tim McCarthy and press secretary Jim Brady Yet with a little bit of luck it might all work out And it did Operations of Veterans' Administration
