innovations in the agricultural and food industries During the last century there was exponential growth in engineering developments which has improved human wellbeing and radically changed how humans interact with each other and our planet Among these Agricultural Mechanization is ranked among the top 10 in a list of 20 Top Engineering Achievements of the last century that have had the greatest impact on the quality of life While many success stories abound the problems of low appeal among students identity crises and limited job opportunities in many climes continue to trouble the discipline s future in many parts of the world Yet agriculture and agricultural engineering remain fundamental to assuring food and nutrition security for a growing global population Agricultural Biosystems and Biological Engineering Education provides the first comprehensive global review and synthesis of different agricultural biosystems and biological engineering education approaches including a detailed exposition of current practices from different regions Key Features Describes novel approaches to curriculum design and reform Outlines current and emerging epistemology and pedagogies in ABBE education Provides a framework to grow agricultural engineering in Africa and other developing regions Highlights the role of ABBE education in the context of the SDGs Presented in 3 parts and containing 42 chapters this book covers the historical evolution of agricultural engineering education and discusses the emergence of biological and biosystems engineering education It will appeal to engineers and other professionals education planners and administrators and policy makers in agriculture and other biological industries Chapters 4 11 19 32 and 41 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

The Phytochemical Landscape Mark D. Hunter, 2016-08-09 The dazzling variation in plant chemistry is a primary mediator of trophic interactions including herbivory predation parasitism and disease At the same time such interactions feed back to influence spatial and temporal variation in the chemistry of plants In this book Mark Hunter provides a novel approach to linking the trophic interactions of organisms with the cycling of nutrients in ecosystems Hunter introduces the concept of the phytochemical landscape the shifting spatial and temporal mosaic of plant chemistry that serves as the nexus between trophic interactions and nutrient dynamics He shows how plant chemistry is both a cause and consequence of trophic interactions and how it also mediates ecosystem processes such as nutrient cycling Nutrients and organic molecules in plant tissues affect decomposition rates and the fluxes of elements such as carbon nitrogen and phosphorus The availability of these same nutrients influences the chemistry of cells and tissues that plants produce In combination these feedback routes generate pathways by which trophic interactions influence nutrient dynamics and vice versa mediated through plant chemistry Hunter provides evidence from terrestrial and aquatic systems for each of these pathways and describes how a focus on the phytochemical landscape enables us to better understand and manage the ecosystems in which we live Essential reading for students and researchers alike this book offers an integrated approach to population community and ecosystem level ecological processes
