Winkler, 1998-12-15 The New Politics of the Textbook Heather Hickman, Brad J. Porfilio, 2012-10-13 In an age of unprecedented corporate and political control over life inside of educational institutions this book provides a needed intervention to investigate how the economic and political elite use traditional artifacts in K 16 schools to perpetuate their interests at the expense of minoritized social groups The contributors provide a comprehensive examination of how textbooks the most dominant cultural force in which corporations and political leaders impact the schooling curricula shape students thoughts and behavior perpetuate power in dominant groups and trivialize social groups who are oppressed on the structural axes of race class gender sexuality and disability

Several contributors also generate critical insight in how power shapes the production of textbooks and evaluate whether textbooks still perpetuate dominant Western narratives that normalize and privilege patriotism militarism consumerism White supremacy heterosexism rugged individualism technology and a positivistic conception of the world Finally the book highlights several textbooks that challenge readers to rethink their stereotypical views of the Other to reflect upon the constitutive forces causing oppression in schools and in the wider society and to reflect upon how to challenge corporate and political dominance over knowledge production

The Confederate and Neo-Confederate Reader James W. Loewen, Edward H. Sebesta, 2011-01-05 Most Americans hold basic misconceptions about the Confederacy the Civil War and the actions of subsequent neo Confederates For example two thirds of Americans including most history teachers think the Confederate States seceded for states rights This error persists because most have never read the key documents about the Confederacy These documents have always been there When South Carolina seceded it published Declaration of the Immediate Causes Which Induce and Justify the Secession of South Carolina from the Federal Union The document actually opposes states rights Its authors argue that Northern states were ignoring the rights of slave owners as identified by Congress and in the Constitution Similarly Mississippi s Declaration of the Immediate Causes says Our position is thoroughly identified with the institution of slavery the greatest material interest of the world Later documents in this collection show how neo Confederates obfuscated this truth starting around 1890 The evidence also points to the centrality of race in neo Confederate thought even today and to the continuing importance of neo Confederate ideas in American political life The 150th anniversary of secession and civil war provides a moment for all Americans to read these documents properly set in context by award winning sociologist and historian James W Loewen and coeditor Edward H Sebesta to put in perspective the mythology of the Old South

Lubrecht, 2016-11-21 During the American Revolution Great Britain hired thirty thousand German troops to fight rebellious colonists Five thousand of those troops marched across New Jersey from Princeton and Trenton all the way to the northern tip of Sussex County Though popular legend would cast them as cold and vicious mercenaries many were prisoners of war with little choice Stories of their exploits still circulate in New Jersey from the headless Hessian of the Morristown Swamp to the mysterious Ramapo Mountain people Join author Pete Lubrecht as he navigates the myth of Hessian troops in New Jersey to separate fiction from fact
