American Anthropology Association (AAA) style follows the Chicago Manual of Style (CMS) Author-Date style. The Chicago Manual of Style is available as part of the Ready Reference Collection at the circulation desk. For further questions or sources not covered in this quick style guide, please reference the Chicago Manual of Style.

Formatting the References List

- Your references list should be titled References Cited
- All sources cited in the text should be included on the References Cited. Do not include any sources that were not cited in the text.
- Arrange your sources alphabetically. When citing multiple sources by the same author, the sources should be in chronological order, from oldest to most recent.

In-Text Citations

The general format for in-text citations is the author's last name and the source's publication date enclosed by parentheses, at the end of the sentence before any punctuation.

Examples:

... (Smith 2010).

... (Wells and Morgan 2007).

When quoting from a source, you must include the page number in the in-text citation. The page number is added after the publication date, separated by a comma. If citing a range of pages, you can use a dash to separate the pages.

Examples:

... (Smith 2010, 3).

... (Wells and Morgan 2007, 15-16).

For Attribution National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Board on Research Data and Information, 2012-12-19 The growth of electronic publishing of literature has created new challenges such as the need for mechanisms for citing online references in ways that can assure discoverability and retrieval for many years into the future The growth in online datasets presents related yet more complex challenges It depends upon the ability to reliably identify locate access interpret and verify the version integrity and provenance of digital datasets Data citation standards and good practices can form the basis for increased incentives recognition and rewards for scientific data activities that in many cases are currently lacking in many fields of research The rapidly expanding universe of online digital data holds the promise of allowing peer examination and review of conclusions or analysis based on experimental or observational data the integration of data into new forms of scholarly publishing and the ability for subsequent users to make new and unforeseen uses and analyses of the same data either in isolation or in combination with other datasets The problem of citing online data is complicated by the lack of established practices for referring to portions or subsets of data There are a number of initiatives in different organizations countries and disciplines already underway An important set of technical and policy approaches have already been launched by the U S National Information Standards Organization NISO and other standards bodies regarding persistent identifiers and online linking The workshop summarized in For Attribution Developing Data Attribution and Citation Practices and Standards Summary of an International Workshop was organized by a steering committee under the National Research

Council's NRC's Board on Research Data and Information in collaboration with an international CODATA ICSTI Task Group on Data Citation Standards and Practices The purpose of the symposium was to examine a number of key issues related to data identification attribution citation and linking to help coordinate activities in this area internationally and to promote common practices and standards in the scientific community Presenting the Past Larry J. Zimmerman, 2003-03-19 Using the right media archeologists can and must educate and excite the people who need their information Larry Zimmerman's earnestly engaging guide to reporting archaeological findings argues that communication is one of archaeology's primary tasks He offers advice on working with colleagues identifying audiences and creating dynamic jargon free prose He offers easy pointers for developing and writing effective CRM reports conference papers and articles in general interest magazines Students will benefit from Zimmerman's frank advice about citations and style as well as his discussion of diverse audiences Practicing archeologists will learn much from the discussion of electronic media and new ways to reach non academic audiences Completing Your Qualitative Dissertation Linda Dale Bloomberg, Marie Volpe, 2018-10-17 Completing Your Qualitative Dissertation offers comprehensive step by step guidance and practical tools for navigating the personal and professional challenges that can arise during the qualitative dissertation journey Authors Linda Dale Bloomberg and Maria Volpe skillfully blend the conceptual theoretical and practical empowering readers to successfully master both the content and the process of their qualitative dissertations The Fourth Edition has been thoroughly updated to respond to developments in the field allowing the book to have wider application for dissertation work within the evolving world of qualitative inquiry Included in this edition is a new chapter titled Achieving Alignment Throughout Your Dissertation a greater focus on how all qualitative traditions can encompass activist research and social justice inquiry and enhanced coverage on the role of the researcher emphasizing the importance of reflexivity and approaching research critically Composition and Grammar ENC1101 Editorial Board, 2022-06-15 We live in a world of words The way we interact with our fellow humans is very often based on the language that always surrounds us whether it be the messages we send the news we read or the assignments we complete in classes that give us the education intended to lead us to success What might be the best way to navigate the complexity of language especially in a first year composition course This book addresses these issues by presenting lessons examples and student samples through an approach that is friendly conversational and realistic Created by actual instructors of composition at HCC this book includes many resources to guide composition students of different skill levels In depth overviews of reading writing and revising Engaging exercises that anticipate and address the most common errors of writers Actual student samples that provide the basis of class discussions and analysis With guidance that includes both theory and practice Composition and Grammar for HCC by HCC provides students with the skills they need for their educational goals their careers and their lives Cite Right, Second Edition Charles Lipson, 2011-05-15 In his bestselling guide Doing Honest Work in College How to Prepare Citations Avoid Plagiarism and Achieve Real Academic Success veteran teacher Charles Lipson brought welcome clarity to the principles of academic honesty as well as to the often murky issues surrounding plagiarism in the digital age. Thousands of students have turned to Lipson for no nonsense advice on how to cite sources properly and avoid plagiarism when writing their research papers. With his latest book Cite Right, Lipson once again provides much needed counsel in a concise and affordable handbook for students and researchers. Building on Doing Honest Work in College, Lipson's new book offers a wealth of information on an even greater range of citation styles and details the intricacies of many additional kinds of sources. Lipson's introductory essay Why Cite explains the reasons it is so important to use citations and to present them accurately in research writing. In subsequent chapters, Lipson explains the main citation styles students and researchers are likely to encounter in their academic work: Chicago, MLA, APA, CSE, biological sciences, AMA, medical sciences, ACS, chemistry, mathematics, and computer science, physics, astrophysics, and astronomy, Bluebook and ALWD law, and AAA, anthropology, and ethnography. His discussions of these styles are presented simply and clearly with examples drawn from a wide range of source types crossing all disciplines from the arts and humanities to science, law, and medicine. Based on deep experience in the academic trenches, Cite Right is an accessible one-stop resource, a must-have guide for students and researchers alike who need to prepare citations in any of the major disciplines and professional studies.

From Topic to Thesis Michael Kibbe, 2015-12-31 Every theology student has to write a research paper, but many do not know how to go about doing theological research. In this brief guide, Michael Kibbe introduces students to the basics of academic research, including how to gather and engage different sources, use online databases, and bibliography software, and avoid common mistakes.

Writing Classified and Unclassified Papers for National Security James S. Major, 2008-11-25 Since 9/11, the profession of intelligence has come under increased scrutiny. Written products have been criticized for lack of clarity or for unconvincing arguments. Nations have gone to war based on what was considered the best available intelligence, only to learn later that it had been flawed. A lack of standards for written products across the Intelligence Community has adversely impacted those products and those who depend upon them. Writing Classified and Unclassified Papers for National Security is designed to serve as a style guide for those in the intelligence profession and for those aspiring to that career and pursuing studies in intelligence, national security, homeland security, or homeland defense. It provides essential information and guidelines regarding the preparation of written products to satisfy the intended consumers. This desktop reference is essential for career intelligence professionals and as a reference book for students.
