Allah Is Not Obligated:

Allah Is Not Obligated Ahmadou Kourouma, 2007 A powerful and affecting novel of Africa's child soldiers by French Africa's pre-eminent novelist Birahima is ten years old. He lives in the Ivory Coast. He is a soldier. In Ahmadou Kourouma's extraordinary novel Birahima tells his story. At the age of ten his mother dies and Birahima leaves his native village accompanied by the sorcerer-crook Yacouba to search for his aunt Mahan. Crossing the border into Liberia they are seized by a rebel force and pressed into military service. Birahima is given a Kalashnikov, minimal rations of food, a small supply of dope, and a tiny wage. Fighting in a totally chaotic civil war and alongside many other boys, some no older than himself, Birahima sees death, torture, amputation, and madness but somehow manages to retain his own sanity. Ahmadou Kourouma's masterpiece is powerful, terrible, and frequently bitterly funny. From the Hardcover edition. Mediating Violence from Africa George S. MacLeod, 2023-10 Mediating Violence from Africa explores how African and non-African Francophone authors, filmmakers, editors, and scholars have packaged, interpreted, and filmed the violent histories of post-Cold War Francophone Africa. This violence, much of which unfolded in front of Western television cameras, included the use of child soldiers facilitated by the Soviet Union's castoff Kalashnikov rifles, the rise of Islamist terrorism in West Africa, and the horrific genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda. Through close readings of fictionalized child soldier narratives, cinematic representations of Islamist militants, genocide survivor testimony, and Western scholarship, George S. MacLeod analyzes the ways Francophone African authors and filmmakers, as well as their editors and scholarly critics, negotiate the aesthetic, political, cultural, and ethical implications of making these traumatic stories visible. MacLeod argues for the need to periodize these productions within a post-Cold War framework to emphasize how shifts in post-1989 political discourse are echoed, contested, or subverted by contemporary Francophone authors, filmmakers, and Western scholars. The questions raised in Mediating Violence from Africa are of vital importance today. How the world engages with and responds to stories of recent violence and loss from Africa has profound implications for the affected communities and individuals. More broadly, in an era in which stories and images of violence, from terror attacks to school shootings to police brutality, are disseminated almost instantly and with minimal context, these theoretical questions have implications for debates surrounding the ethics of representing trauma, the politicization of memory, and Africa's place in a global, as opposed to a postcolonial or Euro-African, economic and political landscape. New Perspectives on African Childhood De-Valera NYM Botchway, Awo Sarpong, Charles Quist-Adade, 2019-09-05 What does it mean to be a child in Africa? In the detached Western media narratives of penury, wickedness, and death, have dominated portrayals of African childhood. The hegemonic lens of the West has failed to take into account the intricacies of not only what it means to be an African child in local and culturally specific contexts but also African childhood in general. Challenging colonial discourses, this edited volume guides the reader through different comprehensions and perspectives of childhood in Africa. Using a blend of theory, empiricism, and history, the contributors to this volume offer studies from a range of fields including African literature Afro centric psychology and sociology Importantly in its eclectic geographical coverage of Africa this book unashamedly presents the good the bad and the ugly of African childhood The resilience creativity pains and triumphs of African childhood are skilfully woven together to present the myriad of lived experiences and aspirations of children from across Africa As an important contribution to African childhood studies this book has the potential to be used by policymakers to shape sustain or change socio cultural economic and education systems that accommodate African childhood dynamics and experiences at different levels
