Alphabet To Internet Media In Our Lives:

Alphabet to Internet Irving E. Fang, 2012 A history of communication media and how the various media changed us

Alphabet to Internet Irving Fang, 2014-11-13 What Greek philosopher thought writing would harm a student's memory Was the poet Byron's daughter the first computer programmer Who plays more video games women over 18 or teenage boys In Alphabet to Internet Media in Our Lives Irving Fang looks at each medium of communication through the centuries asking not only What happened but also How did society change because of this new communication medium and How are we different as a result Examining the impact of different media on a broad historical scale among them mass printing the telegraph film the internet and advertising Alphabet to Internet takes us from the first scratches of writing and the origins of mail to today's video games the widespread and daily use of smartphones and the impact of social media in political uprisings across the globe A timeline at the end of each chapter places events in perspective and allows students to pinpoint key moments in media history Now in its third edition Alphabet to Internet presents a lively thoughtful and accessible introduction to media history

Pressing the Police and Policing the Press Scott Memmel, 2024-06-28 In the second half of 2020 and continuing into 2021 protests against racial injustice spread across the United States after the death of George Floyd while in the custody of Minneapolis Police Department officers Members of the press covered these demonstrations documenting what transpired and conveying the important messages involved In so doing the news media held law enforcement accountable through critical reporting on the actions of the police with police officers responding in part by intimidating journalists in the field using force and arrest this in the name of keeping the peace and protecting the public from further harm What transpired during this troubled time cast a bright light on the contemporary relationship between the press and police in the United States The relationship between these two fundamental institutions is however a long and complicated one dating back to colonial British North America In the mid 19th century 1830s 1850s both the press and the police began to take their modern forms and since then have continued to develop routinely interacting with each other as journalists and police officers often found themselves responding to the same crimes and events At times members of both institutions managed to co exist or even cooperate and made efforts to help one another while at other times they butted heads to the point of conflict the professional boundaries between journalists and police officers seemingly blurred As both the press and the police have fallen under deep scrutiny in more modern times the present moment marks what is perhaps an opportune time to focus on the political economic social and technological problems they face In Pressing the Police and Policing the Press Scott Memmel offers the first book length study of the history and legal landscape of the press police relationship Each chapter focuses on interactions between the press and the police during a particular era introducing relevant societal context and how both institutions evolved and responded to that context Memmel concludes his study with recommendations on how going forward the press and the police might work together to tackle some of the similar issues

they face and better serve the public

The FinTech Evolution: Technology Push, Market Pull Dynamics, and Inertia Tatja Karkkainen , 2023-01-17 This work serves as a base for foundational knowledge of the taxonomy vocabulary and concepts in the interdisciplinary field of financial technology FinTech It is specifically written for innovation management in financial services For this end it is integral to inspect the evolution of FinTech through technology push market pull dynamics and inertia because they play a crucial role in shaping the direction and rate of innovation Technology push relates to the development and introduction of new technologies that drive innovation in the financial industry Market pull dynamics on the other hand relate to the demand for new financial products and services that arises from changing consumer needs and preferences The interaction between market pull and technology push can be described as a feedback loop which can be then affected by inertia Inertia can be described as resistance to change that is often present in consumers which can hinder the creation of new technologies and innovations In this sense the consumer inertia can affect the relationship between technology push and market demand making it difficult for new financial technology applications to gain traction if they are not seen as offering significant improvements By understanding the interplay between these three factors it is possible to gain insight into the current state and future direction of the FinTech industry and from there Financial Services Industry
