Poverty Reduction and the World Bank ,1999-01-01 QUOTEEnsuring that the poor will reap some benefit from this much anticipated post crisis recovery period will require the efforts and collaboration of governments international financial institutions the private sector and civil society both in crisis and non crisis countries QUOTE James D Wolfensohn PresidentPoverty reduction is now more firmly at the center of the Bank s country assistance strategies with increased efforts to improve the quality of poverty assessments enhanced monitoring and evaluation of poverty outcomes and the integration of quantitative with participatory methods This annual publication reports on World Bank activities in fiscal year 1998 which continued to be aimed at fostering labor based growth while investing in the development of human capital and providing safety nets At the same time Bank activities reflected several new themes the need to protect the poor from shocks the role of institutions in implementing policies and providing services and the importance of participation partnerships and social capital The amounts lent under the Program of Targeted Interventions PTI has grown from 29 percent of total investment lending in fiscal year 1997 to 40 percent in fiscal 1998 reflecting increased PTI lending in education social protection the environment and to countries in South Asia The amounts lent for poverty focused adjustment operations also increased from 52 to 64 percent of total adjustment lending reflecting efforts to protect the poor hit by the recent crisis in East Asia The report concludes that the East Asian crisis as well as other events of the last decade persistent conflict in some of the poorest African countries the continuing pain of transition in former socialist economies and the experience with policy implementation across the world call for a re examination of the Bank s poverty reduction strategy building on the strategy presented in World Development Report 1990 but incorporating new elements as well This work has begun in preparation for the World Development Report on Poverty which will be published in September 2000 Alleviating Global Poverty Lewis D. Solomon,2014-12-05 In the book Lewis D Solomon develops the theme that the profit motive can serve as a powerful force for social good in developing nations making a difference in the lives of those trapped in misery and helping millions out of poverty After focusing on three US based venture capital like firms the book presents evidence that for profit corporations many indigenous funded in part by these capital providers have alleviated global poverty These investee firms which seek both financial and social returns serve the impoverished by delivering critically needed but affordable goods and services including quality education preventive healthcare light and power and enhanced agricultural productivity Microfinance and Poverty Alleviation Ben Quinones,Joe Remenyi,2014-02-04 Despite the considerable economic growth of the Asia Pacific poverty continues to be a major problem One key way to create sustainable livelihoods and to provide poor households an escape route from poverty is microfinance Since the early 1980s microfinance practitioners have proven that the poor are creditworthy capable of utilizing scarce capital efficiently in viable incom generating projects and able to pay back their loans This book collects the experience of microfinance practitioners in 11 countries in the Asia Pacific region to describe the present state of the art It is designed to provide an overview of the subject why it is so essential to poverty reduction what is the best practice what kind of policy framework and regulatory environment is required It offers both an extensive survey of the academic literature and a selection of case studies all from authors who have been active practitioners in microfinance for many years The case studies cover four key countries in South Asia and three countries in East Asia in which microfinance had become particularly important There is also a regional chapter covering the Pacific islands

Poverty Reduction Support Credits World Bank, 2010-05-21 This evaluation examines the relevance and effectiveness of Poverty Reduction Support Credits PRSCs introduced by the Bank in early 2001 to support comprehensive growth improve social conditions and reduce poverty in IDA countries PRSCs were intended to allow greater country ownership provide more predictable annual support exhibit more flexible conditionality and strengthen budget processes in a results based framework By September 2009 the Bank had approved 99 PRSCs totaling some 7.5 billion and representing 38% percent of IDA policy based lending The evaluation finds that in terms of process PRSCs were effective in easing conditionality increasing country ownership and aid predictability stimulating dialogue between central and sectoral ministries and improving donor harmonization In terms of content PRSCs succeeded in emphasizing public sector management and pro poor service delivery Yet in terms of results it is difficult to distinguish growth and poverty outcomes in countries with PRSCs from other better performing IDA countries There is scope for further simplifying the language of conditionality and underpinning PRSCs with better pro poor growth diagnostics PRSCs can also strengthen their results frameworks and limit sector policy content in multi sector DPLs to high level or cross cutting issues Today Bank policy has subsumed PRSCs under the broader mantle of Development Policy Lending and the rationale for a separate brand name although differences linger from the past Since PRSCs and other policy based lending have gradually converged in design remaining differences compared to other Development Policy Loans should be clearly spelled out or the separate PRSC brand name should be phased out

New International Poverty Reduction Strategies Jean-Pierre Cling, Mireille Razafindrakoto, Francois Roubaud, 2003-05-15 Originally published in French and updated here for the first time in English the book emphasises three main innovations brought about by the fight against poverty by the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund

The End of the "Asian Model" Holger Henke, Ian Boxill, 2000-03-15 With the economic crisis in Asia which unfolded in recent years the development model on which the phenomenal earlier success of several countries in the region was built requires increasing scrutiny This anthology questions the validity of the notion promoted by some observers and international financial organizations that there is a universally applicable model of industrialization common to Asian countries A number of senior and highly regarded Asia specialists are taking a critical look at the various development experiences of several and some often neglected Asian countries and evaluate their experiences in a comparative perspective Comparing the analyses of countries such as Mongolia the Pacific Islands or Sri Lanka with Singapore South Korea and other countries of the region leads the editors of this volume to the conclusion that the fashionable talk about a model is not justified and that the picture is much more complex
