Altbabylonische Zeichenliste Der Sumerisch Literarischen Texte:

Altbabylonische Zeichenliste der sumerisch-literarischen Texte Catherine Mittermayer, 2006 presents a collection of 480 cuneiform signs used in the Sumerian literary texts of the Old Babylonian period The inventory of sign forms exclusively refers to texts from Nippur and Ur as well as to the relevant tablets kept in the collections of the University Museum Philadelphia the British Museum London and the Hilprecht Sammlung Jena Most of the signs listed have been collated The sign list is classified according to Old Babylonia main forms Each entry consists of a main form and up to 16 variants supposed to cover the spectrum of a sign as far as possible All forms are listed with their quotations differentiated according to the origins of the tablet In addition to the sign forms the list also provides the corresponding values and Diri Some of the values are explained in detail in a commentary at the end of the sign list Colophon Sumerian Literary Texts in the Schøyen Collection Christopher Metcalf, 2019-07-01 The first in a series of volumes publishing the Sumerian literary texts in the Schøyen Collection this book makes available for the first time editions of seventeen cuneiform tablets dating to ca 2000 BCE and containing works of Sumerian religious poetry Edited translated and annotated by Christopher Metcalf these poems shed light on the interaction between cult scholarship and scribal culture in Mesopotamia in the early second millennium BCE The present volume contains fourteen songs composed in praise of the various gods of the Mesopotamian pantheon it is believed that these songs were typically performed in temple cults Among them are a song in praise of Sud goddess of the ancient Mesopotamian city Shuruppak a song describing the statue of the protective goddess Lamma saga in the Sacred City temple complex at Girsu and a previously unknown hymn dedicated to the creator god Enki Each text is provided in transliteration and translation and accompanied by hand copies and images of the tablets themselves Expertly contextualizing each song in Babylonian religious and literary history this thoroughly competent editio princeps will prove a valuable tool for scholars interested in the literary and religious traditions of ancient Mesopotamia Babylonian

Ceremonial Script in Its Scholarly Context Carole Roche-Hawley, 2024-03-15 Since the advent of Assyriology in the early nineteenth century it has been known that two distinct scripts were used in ancient Mesopotamian inscriptions and documents One usefully characterized as cursive was used for the ephemeral documents of daily life as well as on most library and archival texts The other was a deliberately archaizing script reserved for ceremonial use This ceremonial script of Babylonian origin contained both archaic and archaizing signs and was in productive use for over two millennia not only in Babylonia but occasionally also in Assyria and beyond Yet to date there has been no systematic study devoted specifically to this ceremonial script nor any published syllabary of the archaic and archaizing signs it employs This volume attempts to rectify this deficiency by providing a substantive introduction to Babylonian ceremonial script along with a history of its modern study and several case studies of how the script was actually used The introduction is supplemented by an edition of the paleographic lists of the second and first millennia BCE which contain pedagogical inventories of the archaic and archaizing cuneiform signs illustrating how the ceremonial script was taught learned and transmitted in scholarly contexts

Drums, Women, and Goddesses Sarit Paz, 2007 Updated version of author's thesis master's Tel Aviv University 2003

Aspekte des Menschseins im Alten Mesopotamien Ulrike Steinert, 2012-02-17 Being the first monographic study of this kind in the field of Assyriology this book comprises an investigation of Ancient Mesopotamian concepts of the human person Concentrating on Akkadian cuneiform texts from the 2nd and 1st millennium BC the author examines the characteristics and attributes attached to human beings and the notions of the person as a composite being through a semantic analysis of Akkadian terms for the body body parts and aspects of the self which can be termed souls Through an examination of a wide range of textual sources and an interdisciplinary approach this study shows that the Mesopotamian views of personhood share amazing similarities with those of the neighbouring ancient cultures but often differ from our own in short as a piece of modern Assyriological scholarship it is very well done and a tribute to its author's capabilities and accomplishments

Benjamin R Foster Yale University Egypt in the Eastern Mediterranean During the Old Kingdom Karin

Sowada, 2009 This study presents a revised view of Egyptian foreign relations in the eastern Mediterranean during the Old Kingdom 3rd 6th Dynasties based on an extensive analysis of old and new archaeological data and its relationship to the well known textual sources The material demonstrates that while Egypt's most important relationships were with Byblos and the Lebanese coast generally it was an active participant in the geo political and economic affairs of the Levant throughout much of the third millennium BCE The archaeological data shows that the foundation of these relationships was established at the beginning of the Early Dynastic Period and essentially continued until the end of the 6th Dynasty with ebbs flows and changes of geographical and political emphasis It is argued that despite the paucity of textual data the 4th Dynasty represents the apogee of Egypt's engagement in the region a time when the centralised state was at the height of its power and control of human and economic capital More broadly this study shows that Egyptian interaction in the eastern Mediterranean fits the pattern of state to state contact between ruling elites which was underpinned by official expeditions engaged in gift and commodity exchange diplomatic endeavours and military incursions Susa and Elam.

of Babylonian prayers dedicated to Marduk the god of Babylon since J Hehn's essay Hymnen und Gebete an Marduk 1905 Marduk was the god of the city of Babylon and was the most important god in Babylonia from the time of Hammurabi the 18th century BCE onwards In this book Takayoshi Oshima presents an up to date catalog of all known Babylonian prayers dedicated to Marduk from different historical periods and offers critical editions of 31 ancient texts based on newly identified manuscripts and a collation of the previously published manuscripts The author also discusses various aspects of Akkadian prayers to different deities and the ancient belief in the mechanism of punishment and redemption by Marduk From the Workshop of the Mesopotamian Scribe Jacob Klein, Yitschak Sefati, 2020-03-02 This volume presents first editions of a variety of cuneiform tablets from the Old Babylonian period belonging to the collection of the late Shlomo Moussaieff It makes available for the first time three texts representing varying levels of Mesopotamian scribal education The first is what the authors argue is the most complete copy of the first fifty lines of the standard version of the Sumerian epic Gilgame and the Bull of Heaven The second is a hitherto unpublished bilingual Sumerian Akkadian lexical list of unknown provenance similar to the Proto Aa syllabary Each of the 314 entries preserved on this tablet provides a pronunciation gloss a Sumerian logogram and an Akkadian translation A unique feature of this list is that the signs are arranged on the basis of graphic concatenation each sign contains one of the graphic components of the preceding sign It also yields a great number of hitherto unknown synonymous Akkadian translations to the Sumerian logograms The final chapter contains an edition of two groups of lenticular school tablets containing thirty three elementary level scribal exercises With this volume Jacob Klein and Yitschak Sefati preserve and disseminate important artifacts that advance the study of Sumerian literature Mesopotamian lexicography and ancient Near Eastern scribal education Mesopotamian Medicine and Magic ,2018-10-22 Mesopotamian Medicine and Magic Studies in Honour of Markham J Geller is a thematically focused collection of 34 brand new essays bringing to light a representative selection of the rich and varied scientific and technical knowledge produced chiefly by the cuneiform cultures The contributions concentrate mainly on Mesopotamian scholarly descriptions and practices of diagnosing and healing diverse physical ailments and mental distress The festschrift contains both critical editions of new texts as well as analytical studies dealing with various issues of Mesopotamian medical and magical lore Currently this is the largest edited volume devoted to this topic significantly contributing to the History of Ancient Sciences This is a broad survey of many aspects of Babylonian culture and reflects the intellectual climate of the world encountered by the exiles Nick Wyatt Journal for the Study of the Old Testament 43 5 2019
