Alternative Ulsters Conversations On Identity:

Alternative Ulsters Mark Carruthers, 2014-04-01 Excellent Thought provoking A must read Belfast Telegraph Fascinating Irish Times Mark Carruthers has done something remarkably clever and refreshing A very important book Belfast News Letter The best political book of the year Alex Kane Ulster is an ambiguous and complex place With six of its nine counties in Northern Ireland and three in the Republic of Ireland it is perhaps most readily associated with the Troubles of the past four decades It is also however a place with a rich literary musical and sporting heritage Its people represent a surprising mix of cultural identities religious ideologies and political allegiances There is no one settled Ulster identity but as this collection of conversations bears out there are many areas where experiences and beliefs overlap even though people come from very different backgrounds and traditions In Alternative Ulsters the broadcaster Mark Carruthers interviews a wide range of high profile writers actors journalists and politicians each of them with an enduring Ulster connection He uses his finely tuned skills as an interviewer to draw each contributor into a personal reflection on identity The stories and experiences that helped shape and influence each of the thirty six interviewees are presented here in a series of colourful lively and at times deeply moving exchanges Together these conversations with those who know the place best explore Ulster in the twenty first century revealing a freshness of thought and a richness of culture that rarely make the headlines The Contested

Identities of Ulster Catholics Thomas Paul Burgess, 2018-06-20 This book investigates the often fragmented nature of Ulster Nationalist Republican Roman Catholic politics culture and identity It offers a companion publication to The Contested Identities of Ulster Protestants 2015 Historically the Catholic community of Ulster are regarded as a unified and coherent group sharing cultural and political aspirations However the volume explores communities of many variants and strands belying the notion of an easy homogenous bloc in terms of identity political aspirations voting preferences and cultural identity These include historical differences within constitutional nationalism and Republicanism gender politics partition perceptions of this community from The Republic of Ireland and more The book will appeal to students and scholars across the fields of Politics Cultural Studies Sociology Irish Studies and Peace Studies Seamus Heaney and Society Rosie Lavan, Rosamund Lavan, 2020 In the course of Seamus Heaney's career he assumed roles across education journalism and broadcasting as well as poetry Seamus Heaney and Society presents a comprehensive and dynamic new engagement with one of the most celebrated poets of the modern period appreciating how his work as a poet was shaped by his work as a teacher lecturer critic and public figure Seamus Heaney and Society draws on a range of archival material in order to revive the network of associations within which Heaney's work was written published and circulated Mindful of the various spheres of his career it assesses his achievements and status in Ireland Britain and the United States through newspapers magazines radio and television programmes and manuscript drafts of key writings now held in the National Library of Ireland Through asserting the significance of the cultural institutional and historical circumstances of Heaney's writing life it offers a re examination of the writer in public the social lives of the work of art and the questions of obligations and responsibility which Heaney confronted throughout his career Throughout Seamus Heaney and Society addresses the nature and singularity of poetry and the ways in which these qualities are asserted challenged and sustained in Heaney's work It demonstrates that despite the cultural standing and the scholarship that already surrounds his writing there is still a great deal to learn about and to learn from Seamus Heaney

Poet John Hewitt, 1907-1987 and Criticism of Northern Irish Protestant

Writing Sarah Ferris, 2002 This study questions the validity of John Hewitt's prominence in Northern Irish Protestant writing and asserts the need for a more accurate history of this genre Confronting the perceived wisdoms of a highly politicized discourse it undermines Hewitt's status within it as a matchless acceptable Protestant for a critically re-visioned Ireland Challenging the substance of Hewitt's self-representations as icon of cultural liberalism radical secular dissenter and verse apologist for the Planter condition this book shows that his elevation over the majority of northern Protestants is tenable only within an incomprehensive history of Northern Irish Protestant writing that diminishes other important figures The study provides a framework for a more equitable study of Protestant voices

In Sunshine or in Shadow Donald

McRae, 2019-05-30 One of the most captivating boxing writers on the planet Barry McGuigan A superb tale His inspirational story celebrates peace and reconciliation Daily Telegraph Multi-award-winning author Donald McRae's stunning new book is a powerful tale of hope and redemption across the sectarian divide in Northern Ireland thanks to boxing At the height of the Troubles Gerry Storey ran the Holy Family gym from the IRA's heartland territory of New Lodge in Belfast Despite coming from a family steeped in the Republican movement he insisted that it would be open to all He ensured that his boxers were given a free pass by paramilitary forces on both Republican and Loyalist sides so they could find a way out of the province's desperate situation In the immediate aftermath of the 1981 Hunger Strikes Storey would also visit the Maze prison twice a week to train the inmates from each community separately In itself this would be a heroic story but Storey went further than that he became the trainer for world champion Barry McGuigan and Olympian Hugh Russell who became one of the most famous photographers to document the Troubles Even with all his success and the support of both sides Storey still found himself subjected to three bomb attacks from those who were implacably hostile to any form of reconciliation Now Donald McRae reveals the extraordinary tale of those troubled times and shows us how the violent business of boxing became a haven of peace and hope for these remarkable and compassionate men In Sunshine or in Shadow is an inspirational story of triumph over adversity and celebrates the reconciliation that can take place when two fighters meet each other in the ring rather than outside it An outstanding and important book Don McRae's powerful storytelling shows the courage of the people of the North Andy Lee

Through Gender-Just Citizenship Linda Eitrem Holmgren, 2025-02-24 This open access book explores how to build a gender just peace in which women's political citizenship is foregrounded through a case study of Northern Ireland It addresses the role that civil society can play in peacebuilding and in political life in deeply divided transitional societies It specifically focuses on women's groups and as such studies what grassroots peacebuilding across an ethnic divide can look like in practice Further it analyses what it means to build a gender equal citizenship based on the lived expertise and experiences of women's activism political participation and interethnic cooperation during and after conflict Based on material collected through interviews participant observation and official documents the book explores the potential for gender just political citizenship but also the risk of backlash in terms of women's rights during a transition from armed conflict to peace Essential reading for students and researchers in Political Science Gender Studies Peace and Conflict Studies and Transitional Justice Up the Youth Club Emma Warren, 2025-09-09 A timely reminder of what we all truly crave as human beings connection Doc Brown Warren hows why youth spaces matter not just for young people but for all of us Darren McGarvey Community resilience kindness A story of people at their best Richard King A searching look at the rise and fall of the youth club by renowned cultural documentarian Emma Warren highlighting the seismic impact they have had on UK culture and why we need to ensure their existence for future generations Youth clubs have always existed They always will because there will always be young people How we care for our youth and what we owe them is a question for all of us In

Up the Youth Club Emma Warren maps the shifting story of youth clubs in the UK and Northern Ireland from factory workers in Victorian Boys and Girls clubs to renegade self emancipatory spaces in the 1970s and the music generating youth clubs of more recent decades With a mixed lineage in church evangelism the patronage of the upper classes grassroots DIY and erratic state funding the youth club has had a huge yet almost invisible effect on music sport culture and society Arguing that we cannot advocate for what we do not understand Warren positions youth clubs as a kind of engine room from the famous success stories to come out of their doors such as The Specials or Stormzy to the untold stories of young people finding shelter sustenance and stimulation for over a century and why their dwindling numbers largely due to austerity and funding cuts is of serious concern for us all With this impassioned history Warren invites us to pick up the torch and play an active part in protecting and re igniting this vital part of UK society

The Undivided Past David Cannadine, 2013-03-19 An impassioned controversial plea for us to recognise the importance of writing history from world famous historian David Cannadine David Cannadine is one of Britain s most distinguished historians and this is his masterpiece The Undivided Past is an agonised attempt to understand how so much of the writing of history has been driven by a fatal desire to dramatize differences to create an us versus them Great works of history have so often had at their heart a wish to sift people in ways that have been profoundly damaging and provided the intellectual backing and justification for terrible political decisions Again and again categories have been found whether religion nation class gender race or civilization that have sought to explain world events by fabricating some malevolent or helpless other This book is above all an appeal to common humanity We seem doomed always to fall most recently in the wake of 9 11 into the us versus them trap but there is no reason why the history we read and write should not be much better than this and describe what we all have in common rather than what divides us About the author Sir David Cannadine is Chair of the National Portrait Gallery Dodge Professor of History at Princeton University and General Editor of the Penguin History of Europe and Penguin History of Britain He is a Fellow of the British Academy and the Chair of the Blue Plaques Committee His major books include The Rise and Fall of the British Aristocracy Ornamentalism and Mellon A Life He is currently writing the Penguin History of Victorian Britain He has previously taught at Cambridge Columbia and London universities
