

Image and Symbol in the Poetry of Aimé Césaire

Topic: Literature | Words: 409 | Pages: 3

Introduction

Chapter Six "Essential Landscape: Image and Symbol in the Poetry of Aimé Césaire" explores the contribution of the poet into surrealist literature. Born on 26 June 1913, in a small town in the North of Martinique, Césaire placed great importance on his background and the place of birth as instrumental in showing the world what he stood for and where he came from. The geographic analysis can lead to a greater understanding of Césaire's poetry and his route to developing the concept of identity. The poetry of the author represents his perception of the world through personal opposition against colonial domination. However, due to the effectiveness of his poetry, it was possible for Césaire to overcome the inner wounds and struggles in order to create a new Caribbean identity.

Main body

The backbone of Césaire's poetry is wounded by the memories of slavery, racial injustice, and discrimination. Those who are confronted by the author's writing are encouraged to dig deep into the history of the global society and discover how the geographic distribution of populations pre-determined the fate of people in terms of their position in society as well as a national value. The purpose of Césaire's poetry is to find his own identity that has been lost in the wake of slavery and the mistreatment of people. In his works, the poet unwinds around the memories of Martinique and the value of the hometown, the soft years of childhood,
