Airspeak English Radiotelephony Pilots Only:

Native English Speakers and Aviation Communication Dominique Estival, 2025-09-30 The increased globalisation of aviation requires a large number of aviation professionals pilots and air traffic controllers who must cooperate and communicate to ensure safety as well as efficiency Native English Speakers and Aviation Communication argues for the need to train and test native English speakers NES as well as non native English speakers NNES in aviation communication While Aviation English is the lingua franca of the skies it is not a variety of English it has no native speakers and NES must learn and practise it Based on the practical experience of the author as a flight instructor and an Aviation English assessor combined with academic research in language and communication this book provides strong arguments for the need to teach standard aviation communication to native English speakers It describes the challenges of aviation communication and the ongoing problems posed by the lack of relevant training or testing for NES reviews the current state of affairs regarding regulations across a range of countries and suggests training solutions to be integrated in the ground school curriculum and during flight training This book is an essential resource for researchers and advanced students working in English for Specific Purposes Aviation English and Aviation Communication as well as for professionals in aviation and aviation training

Supporting the Training of Aviation English Trainers and Assessors Anna P. Borowska, Olena Petrashchuk, 2024-11-12

This volume addresses the importance of training Aviation English trainers and assessors in accordance with the International Civil Aviation Organization's new language requirements It explains how such a training system works in the aviation context so that the human factors of language could be viewed in synchrony with numerous other factors that impact flight safety This is a compact and comprehensive text for those who are thinking of becoming Aviation English experts as well as for those who train them The guidelines presented are ready to be applied at specially tailored courses all over the world as well as being useful for self study Readers can use this concise publication without having to continually devise supplementary materials This book supports Aviation English experts professionalism that is directed at minimising potential misunderstandings of aeronautical communication

Key Issues in English for Specific Purposes in Higher Education

Yasemin Kırkgöz, Kenan Dikilitaş, 2018-01-08 This volume offers research based studies on English for Specific Purposes in higher education from across the world By drawing on international studies the book brings together diverse ESP practices and aspects of relevant issues in the development of ESP programs teachers and learners in a coherent fashion There is a growing need for undergraduate students to develop their proficiency of ESP skills and knowledge in the increasingly globalized world Knowledge of ESP is an important factor in subject matter learning by students and also closely related to the performance of university graduates in the relevant sectors Careful planning and efficient implementation are essential to ensure the quality of the language learning process For a variety of reasons it proves difficult to maintain ESP instruction in higher education These reasons include the incompetence of teachers lack of materials for that specific context as well as

lack of opportunities for ESP teachers to develop their skills The chapters in this book taken from a wide variety of countries shed light on the diversity of current practices and issues surrounding ESP

Variation and Co-operative Communication Strategies in Air Traffic Control English Eveline Wyss-Bühlmann, 2005 The aim of this study is to establish the co operative communication strategies that are used in air traffic control ATC conversations The research deals with the question what kind of co operative communication strategies do pilots and controllers employ in a speech situation with a restricted use of vocabulary which generally does not permit any deviations from standard phraseology The strategies in ATC speech are then compared to those used by second language learners Faerch and Kasper s 1983 taxonomy of communication strategies will serve as a basis for this comparison The author analyses authentic speech samples from various ATC workstations at Zurich Airport and evaluates various aspects of phraseology training of air traffic controllers

English for aviation Aline Pacheco, 2022-08-22 Communication in aviation is a challenge for pilots air traffic controllers aviation personnel and consequently for professionals who are in charge of teaching and assessing the language used in the aeronautical context The growing demand in the market along with constant commitment with safer skies have posed the need for more and more studies that try to contribute to this issue especially those which attempt to describe and explain the use of English in aviation The book brings introductory information about teaching Aviation English regarding general guidelines for teachers in addition to data from academic research conducted in the area Specific studies based on the analysis of aeronautical accidents and incidents interviews with pilots and ATCOs and corpus research show that the use of the English language in aviation should be further addressed
