Annual Performance Plan Mpumalanga (South Africa). Department of Education,2016 Building the Foundation: Whole Numbers in the Primary Grades Maria G. Bartolini Bussi,Xu Hua Sun,2018-03-29 This twenty third ICMI Study addresses for the first time mathematics teaching and learning in the primary school and pre school setting while also taking international perspectives socio cultural diversity and institutional constraints into account One of the main challenges of designing the first ICMI primary school study of this kind is the complex nature of mathematics at the early level Accordingly a focus area that is central to the discussion was chosen together with a number of related questions The broad area of Whole Number Arithmetic WNA including operations and relations and arithmetic word problems forms the core content of all primary mathematics curricula The study of this core content area is often regarded as foundational for later mathematics learning However the principles and main goals of instruction on the foundational concepts and skills in WNA are far from universally agreed upon and practice varies substantially from country to country As such this study presents a meta level analysis and synthesis of what is currently known about WNA providing a useful base from which to gauge gaps and shortcomings as well as an opportunity to learn from the practices of different countries and contexts Research for Educational Change Jill Adler,Anna Sfard,2016-06-17 Research for Educational Change presents ways in which educational research can fulfil its commitments to educational practice Focussing its discussion within the context of mathematics education it argues that while research generated insights can have beneficial effects on learning and teaching the question of how these effects are to be generated and sustained is far from evident The question of how to turn research into educational improvement is discussed here in the context of learning and teaching hindered by poverty and social injustice In the first part of the book four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom In the second part each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms Combining two discourses that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice the book deals with the perennial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education educational research and classroom practices This book will be key reading for postgraduates researchers and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education education research teacher education and classroom practice It will also appeal to teacher educators practitioners and undergraduate students interested in educational research The Language Issue in the Teaching of Mathematics in South Africa Lindiwe Tshuma,2021-01-26 The book is the result of a five year project that culminated within the first three years in doctoral research interrogating language competency for meaningful mathematics instruction at upper primary level conducted at University of Stellenbosch in 2017 and this book in the succeeding two years The initial research project received countrywide coverage in several South African media outlets including Times Live and Radio 2000

Teacher Empowerment Toward Professional Development and Practices Ismail Hussein Amzat, Nena P. Valdez, 2017-04-22 This book gathers a range of contributions from researchers and practitioners across borders with an emphasis on theoretical arguments and empirical data concerning teacher empowerment It propels readers to explore powerful teaching practices that can further advance the profession as a continuing priority in the system when appropriately utilized Further it strives to capture teachers readiness to improve their professional skills and responsive practices as a form of accountability for their teaching and students learning two aspects that are increasingly being judged by various stakeholders The book argues that teachers autonomous participation and engagement in relevant decision making activities and equitable access to continuing professional development opportunities are and should remain major priorities

Internet of Things, Infrastructures and Mobile Applications Michael E. Auer, Thrasyvoulos Tsiatsos, 2020-09-10 This book gathers papers on interactive and collaborative mobile learning environments assessment evaluation and research methods in mobile learning mobile learning models theory and pedagogy open and distance mobile learning life long and informal learning using mobile devices wearables and the Internet of Things game based learning dynamic learning experiences mobile systems and services for opening up education mobile healthcare and training case studies on mobile learning and 5G network infrastructure Today interactive mobile technologies have become the core of many if not all fields of society Not only do the younger generation of students expect a mobile working and learning environment but also the new ideas technologies and solutions introduced on a nearly daily basis also boost this trend Discussing and assessing key trends in the mobile field were the primary aims of the 13th International Conference on Interactive Mobile Communication Technologies and Learning IMCL2019 which was held in Thessaloniki Greece from 31 October to 01 November 2019 Since being founded in 2006 the conference has been devoted to new approaches in interactive mobile technologies with a focus on learning The IMCL conferences have since become a central forum of the exchange of new research results and relevant trends as well as best practices The book s intended readership includes policymakers academics educators researchers in pedagogy and learning theory schoolteachers further education lecturers practitioners in the learning industry etc

Fostering Children's Mathematical Power Arthur Baroody, Arthur J. Baroody, Jesse L.M. Wilkins, Ronald T. Coslick, 1998-09-01 Teachers have the responsibility of helping all of their students construct the disposition and knowledge needed to live successfully in a complex and rapidly changing world To meet the challenges of the 21st century students will especially need mathematical power a positive disposition toward mathematics curiosity and self confidence facility with the processes of mathematical inquiry problem solving reasoning and communicating and well connected mathematical knowledge an understanding of mathematical concepts procedures and formulas This guide seeks to help teachers achieve the capability to foster children s mathematical power the ability to excite them about mathematics help them see that it makes sense and enable them to harness its might for solving everyday and extraordinary problems The investigative approach attempts to foster mathematical power by making mathematics instruction process based understandable or relevant to the everyday life of students Past efforts to reform mathematics instruction have focused on only one or two of these aims whereas the investigative approach accomplishes all three By teaching content in a purposeful context an inquiry based fashion and a meaningful manner this approach promotes children s mathematical learning in an interesting thought provoking and comprehensible way This teaching guide is designed to help teachers appreciate the need for the investigative approach and to provide practical advice on how to make this approach happen in the classroom It not only dispenses information but also serves as a catalyst for exploring conjecturing about discussing and contemplating the teaching and learning of mathematics
