Nature of Accounting

Definition of Accounting	Defined by:
Accounting is a service activity. Its function is to provide quantitative information, primarily financial in nature, about economic entities that is intended to be useful in making economic decisions.	Accounting Standards Council (ASC)
Accounting is the process of identifying, measuring, and communicating economic information to permit informed judgments and decisions by users of the information.	American Accounting Association (AAA)
A system that measures business activities, processes given information into reports and communicates those findings to decision makers.	Philippine Institute of Certified Public Accountants (PICA)
Accounting is the art of recording, classifying, and summarizing in a significant manner and in terms of money, transactions and events which are, in part at least, of financial character and interpreting the results thereof.	American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA)

Purpose and Objective of Accounting

- To provide the information needed by users in making economic decisions.

Components of Accounting

1. Identifying
2. Measuring
3. Communicating

Identifying

- This process involves the recognition or non-recognition of business activities or transactions as accountable events.

Note:

- Only economic activities or those transactions that have financial character are accountable.
 - An event is accountable only if it has an effect on assets, liabilities, or equity.
