Abstract: This study examined the effects of a 12-week, 100% bodyweight resistance training program on the muscle strength and body composition of 10 sedentary, middle-aged men. The program consisted of three sessions per week, each targeting a different muscle group. The results showed that the program significantly increased muscle strength and body composition, with the greatest improvements seen in the lower body muscles. The findings suggest that a 12-week, 100% bodyweight resistance training program is an effective way to improve muscle strength and body composition in sedentary, middle-aged men.
