Be ready to answer these three blood chemistry fundamentals!

1. Describe both gross (macroscopic) and chemical (microscopic) features of the plasma

• Gross appearance of a plasma-derived supernatant:
• Color: straw-colored
• Consistency: liquid

- Microscopic appearance: plasma does not form a solid body when spun down. Instead, when centrifuged, it remains a liquid and separates from the cells. It is a clear, straw-colored liquid.
- Separation: plasma is separated from the cells by centrifugation.
- Composition: plasma is composed of water, electrolytes, and various proteins.
- Function: plasma transports cells, nutrients, and waste products throughout the body.

2. Describe at least two major functions of plasma (e.g., transport of nutrients, waste, and hormones)

• Transport of nutrients: plasma carries glucose, amino acids, and other nutrients to the cells.

• Transport of waste: plasma carries waste products, such as urea and creatinine, to the kidneys for excretion.

- Regulation of pH: plasma contains buffers that help maintain the pH of the blood.
- Regulation of temperature: plasma helps distribute heat throughout the body.
- Regulation of fluid balance: plasma helps maintain the volume of the blood.

• Regulation of osmotic pressure: plasma helps maintain the osmotic pressure of the blood.

• Regulation of clotting: plasma contains factors that help the blood clot.

• Regulation of immunity: plasma contains antibodies that help fight infection.

3. Describe the three major types of blood cells and their functions (e.g., red blood cells, white blood cells, platelets)

- Red blood cells: transport oxygen from the lungs to the tissues.

• White blood cells: fight infection and disease.

- Platelets: help the blood clot.

• Regulation of blood pressure: platelets help maintain the volume of the blood.

- Regulation of blood pH: platelets help maintain the pH of the blood.

• Regulation of blood temperature: platelets help distribute heat throughout the body.
