innovative agricultural methods using thermal and non thermal microwave or plasma energies Humans that were nomadic in the past can now stably obtain food by developing agriculture Cities were formed as a result of remarkable development Later chemicals were introduced to agriculture to stabilize the food supply further Natural products were initially used but various artificial compounds have been developed for agriculture since the 1900s To further improve crop productivity and diversification gene recombination genetic engineering using biotechnology has progressed in recent years and continues to develop further However these technologies contain pesticide residues and pose safety risks The innovative new agriculture explained in this book is based on the use of microwaves and plasma that do not rely on chemicals and genetic modification This is one of the first books focusing on the agricultural usage of microwaves In addition it is a technical book that incorporates plasma into agriculture from this perspective The book covers microwaves and plasmas which are completely Ferroelectrics Literature Index T. F. Connolly,2012-12-06 Research on ferroelectricity and ferroelectric materials started in 1920 with the discovery by Valasek that the variation of spontaneous polarization in Rochelle salt with sign and magnitude of an applied electric field traced a complete and reproducible hysteresis loop Activity in the field was sporadic until 1935 when Busch and co workers announced the observation of similar behavior in potassium dihydrogen phosphate and related compounds Progress thereafter continued at a modest level with the undertaking of some theoretical as well as further experimental studies In 1944 von Hippel and co workers discovered ferroelectricity in barium titanate The technological importance of ceramic barium titanate and other perovskites led to an upsurge of interest with many new ferroelectrics being identified in the following decade By 1967 about 2000 papers on various aspects of ferroelectricity had been published The bulk of this widely dispersed literature was concerned with the experimental measurement of dielectric crystallographic thermal electromechanical elastic optical and magnetic properties A critical and excellently organized compilation based on these data appeared in 1969 with the publication of Landolt Bornstein Volume 111 3 This superb tabulation gave instant access to the results in the literature on nearly 450 pure substances and solid solutions of ferroelectric and antiferroelectric materials Continuing interest in ferroelectrics spurred by the growing importance of electrooptic crystals resulted in the publication of almost as many additional papers by the end of 1969 as had been surveyed in Landolt Bornstein Test
