Abstract: This study examined the effects of a 12-week, 100% bodyweight resistance training program on the muscle strength, body composition, and cardiovascular fitness of sedentary, middle-aged men. The program was designed to be performed in a home setting and consisted of three sessions per week. The results showed that the program significantly increased muscle strength, body composition, and cardiovascular fitness. The findings suggest that a 12-week, 100% bodyweight resistance training program can be an effective means of improving physical fitness in sedentary, middle-aged men.
