
Alcohol Edu Answer Key – Latest 2023/2024 (Verified Answers) 100% Correct

A blackout is not the same as passing out. A blackout is when a person is unable to remember what they did when they were drinking because his or her hippocampus was impaired.

It can take up to 2 hours for your body to get rid of the amount of alcohol in one standard drink.

After the first few drinks, people often report feeling in a "good mood", partially because alcohol has started to effect the brain. At this point, they should slow down to avoid feeling the negative effects of alcohol.

After people have been drinking, it's harder to make safe decisions about not drinking and driving. Motor coordination and judgment are impaired, and it can be harder to react to dangers on the road. It can take up to two or more hours to get rid of the alcohol in one standard drink, so a person will need to wait a whole lot longer to sober up than one hour.

To avoid a situation where someone is tempted to drive after drinking, you could:

A. Call ahead for a taxi to pick up you or your friends; B. Get a sober designated driver to drive everyone home; C. Check to see if your school has a safe ride program; D. All of the above *

Which of the following activities can cause your BAC to rise quickly:

A. Playing drinking games; B. Drinking shots; C. Pregaming; D. All of the above *

After people have been drinking:

A. They will have a harder time making safe decisions about not drinking and driving; B. They need to leave 1 hour to sober up before attempting to drive; C. They should have some caffeine to sober up; D. Both A and B *

Which of the following statement(s) are always true about alcohol:

A. The higher BAC rises, the harder it can be for people to control their actions; B. The higher BAC rises, the greater the chance of feeling tired, depressed, or nauseous; C. Alcohol has no affect on some people; D. Both A and B *

When trying to convince a friend not to drive after drinking, you should try:

A. Talking to your friend in private so he or she won't get embarrassed; B. Finding a reason for him or her to stay at the party; C. Both A and B *; D. Neither A nor B

Experimental models of early exposure to alcohol: a way to unravel the neurobiology of mental retardation

Alberto Granato, Andrea De Giorgio, 2015-01-27 Excessive alcohol drinking represents a major social and public health problem for several countries Alcohol abuse during pregnancy leads to a complex syndrome referred to as fetal alcohol spectrum disorders FASD chiefly characterized by mental retardation The effects of early exposure to ethanol can be reproduced in laboratory animals and this helped to answer several key questions concerning the human pathology The interest of experimental models of FASD is twofold First they increase our knowledge about the dose and modality of alcohol consumption able to induce damaging effects on the developing brain Second experimental models of FASD can provide useful hints to elucidate the basic mechanisms leading to the intellectual disability In fact experimental exposure to alcohol can be carried out during discrete often very restricted time windows As a consequence FASD models though depending on the multifaceted interference of alcohol with several molecular pathways can provide valuable information about which specific developmental periods and brain areas are critically involved in the genesis of mental retardation Putting together data obtained through several experimental paradigms of alcohol exposure and those deriving from other genetic and non genetic models one can figure out to what extent different types of mental retardation share common pathogenetic mechanisms The present Research Topic is aimed at establishing the state of the art of the current research on experimental FASD focusing on differences and homologies with other types of intellectual disability The ultimate goal is to find out a common roadmap in view of future therapeutical approaches

Alcohol, Power and Public Health Shane Butler, Karen Elmeland, Betsy Thom, James Nicholls, 2017-03-16 In recent years the reduction of alcohol related harm has emerged as a major policy issue across Europe Public health advocates supported by the World Health Organisation have challenged an approach that targets problem drinking individuals calling instead for governments to control consumption across whole populations through a combination of pricing strategies restrictions on retail availability and marketing regulations Alcohol Power and Public Health explores the emergence of the public health perspective on alcohol policy in Europe the strategies alcohol control policy advocates have adopted and the challenges they have faced in the political context of both individual states and the European Union The book provides a historical perspective on the development of alcohol policy in Europe using four case studies Denmark England Scotland and Ireland It explores the relationship between evidence values and power in a key area of political decision making and considers what conditions create or prevent policy change The case studies raise questions as to who sets policy agendas how social problems are framed and defined and how governments can balance public health promotion against both commercial interests and established cultural practices This book will be of interest to academics and researchers in policy studies public health social science and European Union studies
