Education as a Political Tool in Asia Marie Lall, Edward Vickers, 2010-06-30 This book offers a fresh and comparative approach in questioning what education is being used for and what the effects of the politicisation of education are on Asian societies in the era of globalisation Education has been used as a political tool throughout the ages and across the whole world to define national identity and underlie the political rationale of regimes In the contemporary globalising world there are particularly interesting examples of this throughout Asia ranging from the new definition of Indian national identity as a Hindu identity to contrast with Pakistan's Islamic identity to particular versions of nationalism in China Japan Singapore and Vietnam In Asia education systems have their origins in processes of state formation aimed either at bolstering self-strengthening resistance to the encroachments of Western and/or Asian imperialism or at furthering projects of post-colonial nation building State elites have sought to popularise powerful visions of nationhood to equip these visions with a historical back story and to endow them with the maximum sentimental charge This book explores all of these developments emphasising that education is seen by nations across Asia as elsewhere as more than simply a tool for economic development and that issues of national identity and the tolerance or lack of it of ethnic cultural or religious diversity can be at least as important as issues of literacy and access Interdisciplinary and unique in its analysis this book will be of interest to scholars of political science research in education and Asian Studies

The Pakistan National Bibliography, 2012

House, but No Garden Nikhil Rao, 2013-01-25 Between the well documented development of colonial Bombay and sprawling contemporary Mumbai a profound shift in the city's fabric occurred the emergence of the first suburbs and their distinctive pattern of apartment living In House but No Garden Nikhil Rao considers this phenomenon and its significance for South Asian urban life It is the first book to explore an organization of the middle class neighborhood that became ubiquitous in the mid twentieth century city and that has spread throughout the subcontinent Rao examines how the challenge of converting lands from agrarian to urban use created new relations between the state landholders and other residents of the city At the level of dwellings apartment living in self contained flats represented a novel form of urban life one that expressed a compromise between the caste and class identities of suburban residents who are upper caste but belong to the lower middle or middle class Living in such a built environment under the often conflicting imperatives of maintaining the exclusivity of caste and subcaste while assembling residential groupings large enough to be economically viable led suburban residents to combine caste with class type of work and residence to forge new metacaste practices of community identity As it links the colonial and postcolonial city both visually and analytically Rao s work traces the appearance of new spatial and cultural configurations in the middle decades of the twentieth century in Bombay In doing so it expands our understanding of how built environments and urban identities are constitutive of one another Pakistan Pervez Hoodbhoy,2023-03-24 This book is an accessible comprehensive and nuanced history of Pakistan It reflects upon state and society in Pakistan and shows they have been shaped by historical forces and personae Hoodbhoy expertly maps the journey of the region from many millennia ago to the circumstances and impulses that gave birth to the very first state in history founded upon religious identity He documents colonial rule the trauma of Partition the nation s wars with India the formation of Bangladesh and the emergence of Baloch nationalism The book also examines longstanding complex themes and issues such as religious fundamentalism identity formation democracy and military rule as well as their impact on the future of the state of Pakistan Drawing on a range of sources and written by one of the foremost intellectuals of the region this book will be indispensable for scholars researchers students of history politics and South Asian studies It will be of great interest to the general reader interested in understanding Pakistan Metropolitan Governance in Asia and the Pacific Rim Bligh Grant,Cathy Yang Liu,Lin

Ye,2018-05-23 This edited collection examines seminal changes and major policy challenges in metropolitan governance in Asia and the Pacific Rim that are being faced by governments national and sub national and their polities The book builds upon the work of the largest stream at the Urban Affairs Association s UAA Annual Conference Urban Issues in Asia and the Pacific Rim specifically the chapters arose from presentations at the 2016 UAA Annual Conference in San Diego and ensuing discussions and debates The book is framed by three over arching narratives the increased importance economic political and cultural of the Asian region within strategic discussions of planetary urbanism and the problematisation of the concept of the Asian region as an element of these discussions the challenges engendered by the rapid pace of development again economic political and cultural and the endorsement tacit or otherwise of developmentalism in many of the polities under consideration the increased salience of metropolitan and urban areas vis vis other levels of governance national local supra national particularly how it is seen as key in addressing these challenges Protection issues faced by women farmers in Pakistan Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2024-02-22 This study identifies gender related protection issues that impact women farmers in Pakistan and suggests strategy solutions that can contribute to emergency and resilience strategies to safeguard their rights It focuses on women farmers engaged in the production of four major crops

cotton maize wheat and vegetables fruit Women in the fisheries and livestock sectors were also interviewed to better understand women s contributions to food systems and climate change resilience The study analyses the linkages between women s livelihoods nutrition literacy and child protection issues vis vis rural women s understandings of well being protection and economic security By examining these issues the study seeks to shed light on the kind of policy reforms technical assistance and departmental coordination required to address protection issues that affect women in agriculture
