Learning foreign languages: experiences of persons with disabilities and special educational needs and their teachers

Ewa Domagala-Zysk, Jitka Sedláčková, Katarzyna Karpińska-Szaj, 2025-09-22 In many parts of the world it is not a person's native language but a foreign one which is used for education work or entertainment. This is true for many European countries whose inhabitants need to learn English as a foreign language if they want to participate in education or among diverse fields in the workforce. In other parts of the world it might be Spanish, Hindi, Mandarin, Chinese, Arabic or other languages which will be serving a similar role. This need for learning a second language is understood well in many educational programs including those for students with special educational needs. However to date there is not much research of the experiences of persons with diverse additional needs as learners of foreign languages. The most robust literature covers the field of additional language acquisition among Deaf and Hard of Hearing (DHH) people (cf. Domagala-Zysk & Podlowska-Moritz, 2021) and others. Goals, methods and forms of teaching are fairly well described and DHH students' needs have been documented extensively.

Design for Learning Jenae Cohn, Michael Greer, 2023-07-25 Online learning can be so dull or not. Enter Jenae Cohn and Michael Greer, experienced authors and teachers who decided it was time to take on the challenge of making online learning more interesting and compelling for students. So they met in a Zoom call, contacted Rosenfeld Media and wrote this book, Design for Learning: User Experience in Online Teaching and Learning. Many Zoom calls later, the book is structured to teach online learning in such a way that anyone can follow its practices and create a dynamic educational presentation. Chapters cover everything from learning about your learners and setting learning goals to building connections with learners and giving them feedback. In addition, the authors dive into the nitty-gritty details of creating online courses, including takeaways at the end of each chapter and easy-to-follow examples throughout. I particularly appreciate how thoughtful Jenae and Michael are about considering the experience from the learner's point of view and the emphasis they put on learner agency.

Julie Dirksen, Author Design for How People Learn Together. Jenae Cohn and Michael Greer have years of experience designing and producing online courses for students. They wanted the tone of their book to be friendly, supportive, engaging, empathetic and thoughtful. With that in mind, they chose examples that reflected what an ordinary user might encounter on a day-to-day basis, highlighting everything from complex skills accessibility to the most minute details such as writing compelling content and instructional text, designing interesting text and visuals, planning and producing videos, recording sound and voice overs, creating and facilitating live website presentations, designing surveys for class feedback, rating whether your presentation was successful.

Who Is This Book For? Teachers, learning development professionals and anyone tasked with designing an online course or a one-off workshop. Content creators, instructional designers, user experience designers and others who care about the experience of online learning. Whether you're a novice or experienced online instructional designer, this book will show you how to apply industry best practices and provide how to examples powerful templates and activities to craft compelling instructional content whether text audio or video Best of all your course will never be called dull again
