Aha The Moments Of Insight That Shape Our World:

Aha! William B. Irvine, 2014-12-01 Great ideas often develop gradually after studying a problem at length but not always Sometimes an insight hits like a bolt from the blue For Archimedes clarity struck while he was taking a bath For Gustav Mahler it came as the blades of his oars touched the water And for Albert Einstein it emerged while he was talking to a friend Why do these moments of insight strike so suddenly Why do they so often come to us when we are focused on something completely unrelated And when great ideas come to us where do they come from In Aha The Moments of Insight that Shape Our World philosopher William B Irvine author of A Guide to the Good Life and On Desire explores these epiphanies from the minor insights that strike us all daily to the major realizations that alter the course of history Focusing on aha moments as they take place in five different domains religion morality science math and art Irvine provides case studies that shed light on the different ways epiphanies happen in the different domains and on their differing social impact Along the way he describes some of the great aha moments in history from ancient times to the present day We like to think that our greatest thoughts are the product of our conscious mind Irvine demonstrates though that it is our unconscious mind that is the source of our most significant insights and that the role the conscious mind plays in eliciting these insights is to try unsuccessfully to solve certain problems Only if the conscious mind is willing to do this and thereby experience considerable frustration is the unconscious mind likely to reward it with a breakthrough insight that the conscious mind will then take credit for Irvine explores not only the neuroscience of aha moments but also their personal and social ramifications How does a person respond to having a breakthrough insight that goes against a dominant paradigm And how does the world respond when she shares that insight Irvine shows that in many cases what is most remarkable about those who have had the great insights of human history is not their but their courage and perseverance in fighting for the world to accept those insights Aha is a must read for cognitive scientists intellectual historians philosophers and anyone who has ever been blown away by the ideas that enlighten us when we least expect it like to think that our greatest thoughts are the product of our conscious mind Irvine demonstrates though that it is our unconscious mind that is the source of our most significant insights and that the role the conscious mind plays in eliciting these insights is to try unsuccessfully to solve certain problems Only if the conscious mind is willing to do this and thereby experience considerable frustration is the unconscious mind likely to reward it with a breakthrough insight that the conscious mind will then take credit for Irvine explores not only the neuroscience of aha moments but also their personal and social ramifications How does a person respond to having a breakthrough insight that goes against a dominant paradigm And how does the world respond when she shares that insight Irvine shows that in many cases what is most remarkable about those who have had the great insights of human history is not their but their courage and perseverance in fighting for the world to accept those insights Aha is a must read for cognitive scientists intellectual historians philosophers and anyone who has ever been blown away by the ideas that enlighten us when we least expect it The Key to Creativity Hilde Østby, 2023-04-11 Readers of Stolen Focus and Quiet will appreciate this wide ranging and passionate investigation into creativity Why and when it strikes us and how to transform workplaces classrooms and societies for creativity to flourish After a cycling crash leaves her head spinning journalist Hilde stby finds herself suddenly bursting with creative energy which makes her wonder What s the secret to human creativity Where do ideas come from And most importantly in a society that praises productivity and pace how can we nurture rather than suppress our creative impulses Using Alice s Adventures in Wonderland as her inspiration stby takes readers tumbling down the rabbit hole of ideas The Key to Creativity features Interviews with powerhouse creatives like journalist Michael Pollan novelist Maja Lunde and artist Tracey Emin and decodings of their creative regimens The cultural history and science behind our aha moments our inner critics and our idle thoughts Information on how to foster your creative potential stby shares how we can cultivate more creativity in our lives through prioritizing daydreaming and valuing productivity less With the charm of Alice exploring Wonderland and meeting its curious inhabitants The Key to Creativity invites us to imagine a world where daydreaming is encouraged and even our strangest ideas have value The Sceptical Optimist Nicholas Agar, 2015 In The Paradox of Progress Nicholas Agar challenges the central claims of radical optimism that technological progress will automatically make us happier and healthier Using recent psychological studies about human well being he instead presents a more realistic approach to understand the positive and negative issues that progress brings Summary of William B.
