Teaching and Learning Mellony Graven, Hamsa Venkat, 2017-01-19 This book focuses on how to improve the teaching and learning of primary level mathematics education within resource constrained contexts It builds on two large numeracy projects within South Africa which speak to broader global concerns and highlight how research and development not only enables one to meet ethical imperatives but also explore how further interventions can be developed Teacher and research communities must work together to create mutually beneficial relationships and establish a cohesive understanding of the requirements of primary mathematics education Proceedings, 1971 Student Perspectives on Assessment Dennis M. McInerney, Gregory Arief D. Liem, Gavin T. L. Brown, 2009-12-01 Assessment for learning is meant to engage motivate and enable students to do better in their learning However how students themselves perceive assessments both high stakes qualifications and low stakes monitoring is not well understood This volume collects research studies from Europe North and South America Asia and New Zealand that have deliberately focused on how students in primary secondary and tertiary education conceive of experience understand and evaluate assessments Assessment for learning has assumed that formative assessments and classroom practices would be an unqualified success in terms of student learning outcomes Making use of a variety of qualitatively interpreted focus groups observations and interviews and factor analytic survey methods the studies collected in this volume raise doubts as to the validity of this formulation We commend this volume to readers hoping to stimulate their own thinking and research in the area of student assessment We believe the chapters will challenge researchers policy makers teacher educators and instructors as to how assessment for learning can be implemented
