Leibman,2010-07-22 With a breadwinner dad a homemaker mom and squeaky clean kids the 1950s television family has achieved near mythological status as a model of what real families ought to be Yet feature films of the period often portrayed families in trouble with parents and children in conflict over appropriate values and behaviors Why were these representations of family apparently so far apart Nina Leibman analyzes many feature films and dozens of TV situation comedy episodes from 1954 to 1963 to find surprising commonalities in their representations of the family Redefining the comedy as a family melodrama she compares film and television depictions of familial power gender roles and economic attitudes Leibman s explorations reveal how themes of guilt deceit manipulation anxiety and disfunctionality that obviously characterize such movies as Rebel without a Cause A Summer Place and Splendor in the Grass also crop up in such TV shows as The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet Father Knows Best Leave It to Beaver The Donna Reed Show and My Three Sons Drawing on interviews with many of the participants of these productions archival documents and trade journals Leibman sets her discussion within a larger institutional history of 1950s film and television Her discussions shed new light not only on the reasons for both media s near obsession with family life but also on changes in American society as it reconfigured itself in the postwar era Focus On: 100 Most Popular Television Series by Warner Bros. Who the Hell Are We Fighting? C. Michael Hiam,2019-07-16 A tightly written narrative history Harvard magazine It was an enigma of the Vietnam War American troops kept killing the Viet Cong and were being killed in the process and yet the Viet Cong's ranks continued to grow When one man CIA analyst Sam Adams uncovered documents suggesting a Viet Cong army more than twice as numerous as previously reckoned another war erupted this time within the ranks of America's intelligence community This clandestine conflict which burst into public view during the acrimonious lawsuit Westmoreland v CBS involved the highest levels of the U S government The central issue in the trial as in the war itself was the calamitous failure of our intelligence agencies to ascertain the strength of the Viet Cong and get that information to our troops in a timely fashion The legacy of this failure whether due to institutional inertia misguided politics or individual hubris haunts our nation And Sam Adams' tireless crusade for honest intelligence resonates strongly today To detractors like Richard Helms Adams was an obsessive zealot to others he was a patriot of rare integrity and moral courage Adams was the driving force behind the CBS ninety minute documentary The Uncounted Enemy produced by George Crile and hosted by Mike Wallace Westmoreland brought a lawsuit seeking 120 million in damages against Adams and Wallace in what headlines around the country trumpeted as the libel trial of the century Westmoreland dropped his suit before the case could be sent to the jury Who the Hell Are We Fighting is the first serious narrative history of Adams' controversial discovery of the Vietnam numbers

Playing Doctor Joseph Turow, 2010-08-26 Joe Turow's Playing Doctor disquiets and challenges the reader's intellect with cogent analysis of the forces that have shaped television's portrayal of doctors and the medical world. For that alone it is a fantastic read. But Dr. Turow also pleases the mind with well-written and amusing stories, interviews, and behind-the-scenes anecdotes that bring to life in an eminently readable style the fascinating world of TV medicine.

David Foster, M.D., supervising producer, writer, and medical consultant for House. Joseph Turow takes us behind the scenes of such hit television series as ER, Grey's Anatomy, and House to reveal the complex relationship viewers have with their beloved fictional caregivers. Turow carefully probes the history of TV medical series and presents a compelling argument for telling more truthful medical stories in the future to reflect and address the precarious state of our health care system today.

Neal Baer, M.D., executive producer of Law Order: Special Victims Unit. The great contribution of Turow's book in addition to providing a highly readable and smart overview of medical shows over the years is to examine the consequences of the gap between the reality of medical care and the often romanticized heroic depictions on television. This would be a very good book for professors to use in teaching a range of courses in communications studies, from introductory courses to more specialized classes on health and the media.

Susan Douglas Catherine Neafie Kellogg, Professor Arthur F. Thurnau, Professor Communications Studies Department Chair, University of Michigan. Playing Doctor is an engaging and highly perceptive history of the medical TV series from its inception to the present day. Turow offers an inside look at the creation of iconic doctor shows as well as a detailed history of the programs, an analysis of changing public perceptions of doctors and medicine, and an insightful commentary on how medical dramas have both exploited and shaped these perceptions. Drawing on extensive interviews with creators, directors, and producers, Playing Doctor is a classic in the field of communications studies. This expanded edition includes a new introduction placing the book in the contemporary context of the health care crisis as well as new chapters covering the intervening twenty years of television programming. Turow uses recent research and interviews with principals in contemporary television doctor shows such as ER, Grey's Anatomy, House, and Scrubs to illuminate the extraordinary ongoing cultural influence of medical shows. Playing Doctor situates the television vision of medicine as a limitless high-tech resource against the realities underlying the health care debate, both yesterday and today.

Joseph Turow is Robert Lewis Shayon Professor at the Annenberg School for Communication, University of Pennsylvania. He was named a Distinguished Scholar by the National Communication Association and a Fellow of the International Communication Association in 2010. He has authored eight books, edited five, and written more than 100 articles on mass media industries. He has also produced a DVD titled Prime Time Doctors: Why Should You Care? that has been distributed to all first-year medical students with the support of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. Praise for the first edition of Playing Doctor: With Playing Doctor, Joseph Turow has established himself as one of the foremost analytic historians of the interplay
