Yoos,2015-01-01 Simplifying complexity explores how to eliminate ignorance which in the view of the author is the purpose of the sciences and technologies and their consequent developments More specifically the book deals with the plurality of the sciences and technologies It is about the way in which each of them develops around the prosthetics of printed languages and the models used as visual aids to help us create new modes of communication to understand and solve human problems Consequently the task is to simplify the complexity that we find in different sciences both social and physical In his collection of essays George E Yoos surveys a number of different models that have evolved from the innate biological forms of grammar logic and modes of orientation He investigates the evolution of socially constructed systems of numeracy and measurement that have evolved and developed in different languages for the use in scientific and technological communication He identifies methods derived from three distinct personal experiences the use of types of prosthetic mnemonic and attention controlling devices in order to yield simpler perspectives of complex states of affairs George E Yoos emeritus professor is a legend in the field of rhetoric Founder and editor of the Rhetoric Society Quarterly 1972 1985 author of Reframing Rhetoric 2007 Politics and Rhetoric 2009 and fellow of the Rhetoric Society of America Summary of Dawson Church's Bliss Brain Milkyway Media,2024-03-11 Get the Summary of Dawson Church s Bliss Brain in 20 minutes Please note This is a summary not the original book Bliss Brain by Dawson Church recounts the harrowing experience of Church and his wife Christine as they escape a devastating wildfire leaving behind their home and beloved cats Amidst the chaos they find refuge and begin the arduous process of rebuilding their lives grappling with the emotional and material losses Church s childhood memories of poverty and his reluctance to accept charity resurface but the couple s resilience shines through as they navigate the aftermath including the challenges of insurance claims and establishing a new home in Petaluma Towards a Theoretical Neuroscience: from Cell Chemistry to Cognition L Andrew Coward,2013-08-23 The book explains how to understand cognition in terms of brain anatomy physiology and chemistry using an approach adapted from techniques for understanding complex electronic systems These techniques create hierarchies of information process based descriptions on different levels of detail where higher levels contain less information and can therefore describe complete cognitive phenomena but are more approximate The nature of the approximations are well understood and more approximate higher level descriptions can therefore be mapped to more precise detailed descriptions of any part of a phenomenon as required Cognitive phenomena the anatomy and connectivity of major brain structures neuron physiology and cellular chemistry are reviewed Various cognitive tasks are described in terms of information processes performed by different major anatomical structures These higher level descriptions are selectively mapped to more detailed physiological and chemical levels

Crossman, 2024-07-29 Now fully revised and updated Neuroanatomy Illustrated Colour Text Seventh Edition offers a concise yet comprehensive account of the structure and function of the human nervous system Trusted by generations of readers and now in its seventh edition it remains internationally popular as the most succinct clinically relevant and uniquely illustrated textbook available on the subject Carefully targeted to bridge the gap between a brief overview on the one hand and an extensive text on the other this book provides a clear account of neuroanatomical principles It describes normal structure and function and clinically relevant dysfunction all related to conditions which students will encounter in clinical practice This book will make learning easy for medical students junior doctors and specialist trainees needing a sound understanding of the basics of neuroanatomy which underpin the diagnosis and treatment of neurological disorders Straightforward and concise makes notoriously difficult concepts easy to understand Some of the best published illustrations in the field all updated and improved for clarity Perfect for those new to neuroanatomy provides enough detail for students to proceed to clinical studies with confidence Clinical material and topic summaries fully updated and highlighted in summary boxes throughout the text Seeing, second edition John P. Frisby, James V. Stone, 2010-04-02 An accessible yet rigorous and generously illustrated exploration of the computational approach to the study of biological vision Seeing has puzzled scientists and philosophers for centuries and it continues to do so This new edition of a classic text offers an accessible but rigorous introduction to the computational approach to understanding biological visual systems The authors of Seeing taking as their premise David Marr's statement that to understand vision by studying only neurons is like trying to understand bird flight by studying only feathers make use of Marr's three different levels of analysis in the study of vision the computational level the algorithmic level and the hardware implementation level Each chapter applies this approach to a different topic in vision by examining the problems the visual system encounters in interpreting retinal images and the constraints available to solve these problems the algorithms that can realize the solution and the implementation of these algorithms in neurons Seeing has been thoroughly updated for this edition and expanded to more than three times its original length It is designed to lead the reader through the problems of vision from the common but mistaken idea that seeing consists just of making pictures in the brain to the minutiae of how neurons collectively encode the visual features that underpin seeing Although it assumes no prior knowledge of the field some chapters present advanced material This makes it the only textbook suitable for both undergraduate and graduate students that takes a consistently computational perspective offering a firm conceptual basis for tackling the vast literature on vision It covers a wide range of topics including aftereffects the retina receptive fields object recognition brain maps Bayesian perception motion color and stereopsis MatLab code is available on the book s website which includes a simple demonstration of image convolution
