Making the Grades Todd Farley, 2011-01-01 In this alternately amusing and appalling expos of the standardized test industry fifteen year veteran Todd Farley describes statisticians who make decisions about students without even looking at their test answers state education officials willing to change the way tests are scored whenever they don't like the results and massive multi national for profit testing companies who regularly opt for expediency and profit over the altruistic educational goals of teaching and learning Although there are absurd moments as when Farley and coworkers had to grade students based on how they described the taste of their favorite food the enormous importance of standardized tests in the post No Child Left Behind era make this no laughing matter This book is dynamite The nice personal voice makes it utterly accessible and enticing wholly apart from the terribly important ammunition it provides to those of us in the testing wars at national and local levels Jonathan Kozol author of Savage Inequalities Handbook of Automated Essay Evaluation Mark D. Shermis, Jill Burstein, 2013-07-18 This comprehensive interdisciplinary handbook reviews the latest methods and technologies used in automated essay evaluation AEE methods and technologies Highlights include the latest in the evaluation of performance based writing assessments and recent advances in the teaching of writing language testing cognitive psychology and computational linguistics This greatly expanded follow up to Automated Essay Scoring reflects the numerous advances that have taken place in the field since 2003 including automated essay scoring and diagnostic feedback Each chapter features a common structure including an introduction and a conclusion Ideas for diagnostic and evaluative feedback are sprinkled throughout the book Highlights of the book's coverage include The latest research on automated essay evaluation Descriptions of the major scoring engines including the E-rater the Intelligent Essay Assessor the Intellimetric™ Engine e-rater™ and LightSIDE Applications of the uses of the technology including a large scale system used in West Virginia A systematic framework for evaluating research and technological results Descriptions of AEE methods that can be replicated for languages other than English as seen in the example from China Chapters from key researchers in the field The book opens with an introduction to AEEs and a review of the best practices of teaching writing along with tips on the use of automated analysis in the classroom Next the book highlights the capabilities and applications of several scoring engines including the E-rater the Intelligent Essay Assessor the Intellimetric™ engine e-rater™ and LightSIDE Here readers will find an actual application of the use of an AEE in West Virginia psychometric issues related to AEEs such as validity reliability and scaling and the use of automated scoring to detect reader drift grammatical errors discourse coherence quality and the impact of human rating on AEEs A review of the cognitive foundations underlying methods used in AEE is also provided The book concludes with a comparison of the various AEE systems and speculation about the future of the field in light of current educational policy Ideal for educators professionals curriculum specialists and administrators responsible for developing writing programs or distance learning curricula those who teach using AEE technologies policy makers and researchers in education writing psychometrics cognitive psychology and computational linguistics this book also serves as a reference for graduate courses on automated essay evaluation taught in education computer science language linguistics and cognitive psychology

Assessing the English Language Writing of Chinese Learners of English Liz Hamp-Lyons, Yan Jin, 2022-05-24 This book focuses on the assessment of English language writing in China mainland the territories of Hong Kong and Macau and Taiwan The first part of the book describes how writing in English has been assessed in Chinese contexts in the past 25 years and how it continues to be assessed at present The second part of the book presents reports of work such as formative classroom based assessment feedback based or feedback led approaches learning oriented assessment portfolios as well as the important issue of teacher professional development in writing assessment This two part division relates to and reflects what has been happening in writing assessment internationally in the UK from the 1940s and in the US in the past 25 years The use of English for international business communication for international political negotiations and its rapidly increasing use as a medium of instruction in some subject areas has led to a rapid increase in the numbers of Chinese L1 speakers who are learning and being assessed in English This is often done with an emphasis on reading and writing The vast majority of assessments of English language writing are done through large scale direct testing that uses simple prompts tasks and short writing samples This book explores best practices in assessing the writing in English of native speakers of Chinese

Assessing the English Language Writing of Chinese Learners of English edited by long time experts Liz Hamp Lyons and Yan Jin clearly demonstrates the authors collective years of writing and teaching about writing assessment The book s 13 chapters written by recognized experts in assessment of Chinese speakers learning English represent a wide array of important topics written in reader friendly language and offering evidence for pedagogical practices as well as high stakes testing of writing Teachers researchers administrators of writing programs in China and test developers who seek counsel about this population need look no further than to add Assessing the English Language Writing of Chinese Learners of English to their reading list Deborah Crusan Wright State University USA

Resources in Education , 2001-04 17,000 Classroom Visits Can't Be Wrong John V. Antonetti, James R. Garver, 2015-02-20 Most educators are skilled at planning instruction and determining what they will do during the course of a lesson However to truly engage students in worthwhile rigorous cognition a profound shift is necessary a shift in emphasis from teaching to learning Put another way we know that whoever is doing the work is also doing the learning and in most classrooms teachers are working much too hard Authors John V Antonetti and James R Garver are the designers of the Look 2 Learning model of classroom walkthroughs They've visited more than 17 000 classrooms examining a variety of teaching and learning conditions talking to students examining their work and determining their levels of thinking and engagement From this vast set of data they've drawn salient lessons that provide valuable insight into how to smooth the transition from simply planning instruction to designing high quality student work The lessons John and Jim have learned from their 17 000 and counting classroom visits can't be wrong They share those lessons in this book along with stories of successful practice and practical tools ready for immediate classroom application The authors also provide opportunities for reflection and closure designed to help you consider or reconsider your current beliefs and practices Throughout you will hear the voices of John and Jim and the thousands of students they met as they provide a map for shifting the classroom dynamic from teaching to learning

Checking for Understanding Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, 2015-12-18 A teacher presents a lesson and at the end asks students if they understand the material The students nod and say they get it Later the teacher is dismayed when many of the students fail a test on the material Why aren't students getting it And just as important why didn't the teacher recognize the problem In Checking for Understanding Douglas Fisher and Nancy Frey show how to increase students' understanding with the help of creative formative assessments When used regularly formative assessments enable every teacher to determine what students know and what they still need to learn Fisher and Frey explore a variety of engaging activities that check for and increase understanding including interactive writing portfolios multimedia presentations audience response systems and much more This new 2nd edition of Checking for Understanding has been updated to reflect the latest thinking in formative assessment and to show how the concepts apply in the context of Fisher and Frey's work on gradual release of responsibility guided instruction formative assessment systems data analysis and quality instruction Douglas Fisher and Nancy Frey are the creators of the Framework for Intentional and Targeted FIT Teaching They are also the authors of numerous ASCD books including The Formative Assessment Action Plan Practical Steps to More Successful Teaching and Learning and the best selling Enhancing RTI How to Ensure Success with Effective Classroom Instruction and Intervention

Handbook of Response to Intervention and Multi-Tiered Systems of Support Paige C. Pullen, Michael J. Kennedy, 2018-10-04 Of the many issues facing special education and general education today it is difficult to imagine one more important or timely than response to intervention RTI Almost overnight RTI has become standard practice across the nation Unfortunately RTI remains ill defined falls far short of its evidence based practice goal is almost invariably misused and often results in more harm than good Nevertheless as a conceptual framework RTI has great potential for ensuring that students with disabilities receive appropriate evidence based instruction The mission of this handbook is to present a comprehensive and integrated discussion of response to intervention RTI and its relation to multi tiered systems of support MTSS in both special education and general education Although the two terms are currently used interchangeably distinct differences exist between them Therefore chapters are dedicated to distinguishing the two concepts RTI and MTSS and describing each one s unique role in both general and special education In addition the authors recommend a third term Multi Tiered Instruction to differentiate the practices related to the purpose of the specific intervention
