seedlings grubbed after the first and fifth growing season was 0.95 inches. Both were significantly larger than counterparts in the control 0.57 inches. Tanoak, the most competitive species, constituted 84 percent of total plant cover in the control after 5 years but only 25 percent on treated plots. Combined shrubs varied little between the untreated control and treated plots and averaged about 7 percent of total foliar cover. Grasses were not present in the control and only for the fifth year in treated plots. The most abundant forb, a hedge nettle, increased greatly in density in both control and treated plots.
