Teaching Graphic Novels in the English Classroom Alissa Burger, 2017-10-09. This collection highlights the diverse ways comics and graphic novels are used in English and literature classrooms, whether to develop critical thinking or writing skills paired with a more traditional text or as literature in their own right. From fictional stories to non-fiction works such as biography, memoir, history, or critical textbooks, graphic narratives provide students a new way to look at the course material and the world around them. Graphic novels have been widely and successfully incorporated into composition and creative writing classes, introductory literature surveys, and upper-level literature seminars, and present unique opportunities for engaging students, multiple literacies, and critical thinking skills, as well as providing a way to connect to the terminology and theoretical framework of the larger disciplines of rhetoric, writing, and literature.

Charles Dickens's A Tale of Two Cities Ruth Glancy, 2013-10-23. Since its publication in 1859, A Tale of Two Cities has remained the best-known fictional recreation of the French Revolution and one of Charles Dickens's most exciting novels. A Tale of Two Cities blends a moving love story with the familiar figures of the Revolution: Bastille prisoners, a starving Parisian mob, and an indolent aristocracy. Taking the form of a sourcebook, this guide to Dickens's dramatic novel offers extensive introductory comment on the contexts and many interpretations of the text from publication to the present; annotated extracts from key contextual documents; reviews, critical works, and the text itself; cross-references between documents and sections of the guide in order to suggest links between texts, contexts, and criticism; suggestions for further reading. This volume is essential reading for all those beginning detailed study of A Tale of Two Cities and seeking not only a guide to the novel but a way through the wealth of contextual and critical material that surrounds Dickens's text.
